Senate Completes Action

Ohio Legislature Bans Spot Cards In Sports Events

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate Wednesday approved by a 34-1 vote a bill aimed at spot cards on sports events.

The measure provides a $500-$1,000 fine and a 1-3 years in prison for manufacturers or sellers of the cards.

First-offense buyers could be fined up to $500 or jailed up to six months. Subsequent offenses would mean the same penalties as for makers and sellers.

The House-approved bill now goes to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. It was the third anti-gambling measure passed by the legislature.

The day when state colleges open their doors to any graduate of an academically acceptable Ohio high school—no matter what his ability—may be drawing to a close.

Before the Senate today is a bill requiring Ohio's state colleges to establish, with the aid of the State Board of Education, standards to be met in high schools' college preparatory courses.

It also would require state colleges to set up admission procedures, including tests, for those applicants whose high school training is not deemed adequate.

At present, any 12th grade graduate of an acceptable Ohio high school is entitled to admission to any of Ohio's state colleges without examination. However, he may be required to make up academic deficiencies

The bill being considered today is sponsored by State Sens. Ross Pepple, R - Allen; David McK. Ferguson, R-Guernsey, and Donald C. Steiner, R-Stark.

If approved by the Senate, the bill must still go through a House committee, receive House approval and be considered by the governor.

While the Senate considers this and nine other bills, the House is taking up eight bills. Included is one recommended Tuesday by the House Finance Committee. It would increase the 700-man authorization of the Highway Patrol by 100 over the next two years and give each member of the patrol a step-up in pay.

Both the Senate and House defeated one bill during Wednesday's floor sessions.

In a 13-22 vote, senators defeated a bill that would have allowed any competent adult Ohioan to give all or part of his body, on death, to a medical or educational institution. Some funeral directors objected to the measure, which would have prevented embalming

Castro Demands $28 Million Worth Of Tractors In Deal

Safety Seen For Captives Of Invasion

U.S. Officials Feel Castro Won't Put Them To Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kennedy administration officials believe the tractors for prisoners trade — whether it succeeds or fails—may save the lives of 1,200 Cuban invasion captives.

Nobody in Washington feels safe in predicting what action Prime Minister Fidel Castro will take next. But high government officials said today the belief here is that Castro cannot afford now to wheel out his firing squads.

All the evidence adds up to a world-wide propaganda licking for Castro as a result of his offer to trade the prisoners for 500 tractors. Administration officials feel the whole affair has been particularly effective in unmasking in Latin America Castro's pose as a benefactor of the downtrodden.

Castro's offer appears to have embarrassed the Communists at a time when they were exploiting the failure of the American-approved invasion. It may have contributed to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's description of Castro as unstable, and not a Communist in the Soviet leader's recent talks with Kennedy in Vienna.

Kennedy was said by close associates to have foreseen the possibilities of a propaganda coup when he took a hand in forming the Tractors for Freedom Committee, whose representatives are negotiating with the Castro government.

Beyond this, however, Kennedy was credited with believing from the beginning that the Castro offer might provide the opportunity to marshal world opinion to the point where the dictator could not afford to liquidate his enemies.

Any order of the Cuban leader for mass executions is seen here as likely to start the wheels moving toward eventual cooperative inter-American action against his regime.

If the lives of the prisoners are saved, the Kennedy administration believes it will have an effective answer to Republican contentions that the tractor trade would involve not only the payment of "blackmail" to Castro but possible violation of the Logan Act. This bars U.S. nationals from dealings with other governments under specified circumstances.

CRANE TO THE RESCUE. Eight men were rescued at Avon Lake, Ohio, Wednesday in an unusual manner when a crane operator scooped them off their tug which was floundering in the rough waters of Lake Erie. At the time of the actual rescue the crane was on the narrow portion of land adjacent to the tugboat. The tug later washed ashore. (UPI Telephoto)

New Offer Due Committee In Bid To Free Prisoners

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. tractors-for-prisoners team heads for Washington today after hearing Fidel Castro's latest demand—$28 million worth of farm-type tractors in exchange for 1,167 captive invaders.

This amounts to about $24,000 per prisoner.

The unofficial, four-man negotiating panel said it made no commitments to the Cuban prime minister; that it intended to lay the demand before the Tractors-For-Freedom Committee headed by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Whether the committee, in its drive for public subscriptions, could raise the kind of money involved in Castro's demand was uncertain. Other leaders of the drive, besides Mrs. Roosevelt, are Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

The campaign for funds results from Castro's offhand offer of May 17.

Castro showed some new sides to his proposal Wednesday during five hours of negotiating sessions with the American team.

He said he would go along with the committee's offer to supply small farming tractors rather than the big construction tractors he originally sought. But he said the large tractors would have $28 million plus transportation costs —so he expected that much money's worth of the smaller machines.

The Cuban leader indicated he would be agreeable to receiving 1,000 tractors one-half the size of the heavy models first demanded.

The monetary value was a stiff price in terms of the committee's earlier thinking. The fund raisers had been talking about raising $2.5 million or so to buy 500 of the smalle types of tractors which they said should meet Castro's agricultural needs.

Small, general purpose farm tractors sell at from $3,500 to $6,000 in the United States. At such rates, the $28 million figure set by Castro would purchase 4,700 to 8,000 tractors.

Castro also reduced somewhat the number of captives he said he could liberate upon receipt of the tractors. The original figure given the committee was 1,214. Castro said this is now down to 1,167 due to some deaths, special trials he plans for some prisoners and other reasons.

Cuba's boss said he really would prefer to trade freedom of his captives for freedom of 1,200 persons in jail in the United States, Spain and some Latin-American countries.

Asked if he had a specific list of the 1,200 prisoners abroad whom he wants liberated, Castro replied he had "no list, but we know there are many prisoners there because they are patriots."

As for the tractor deal, he said: "It's going well. It all depends on them (the American Committee) now."

Salem District Trio And Wellsville Man Hurt In Collisions

An East Rochester youth and two Salem companions were injured in a Route 45 mishap early today and a Wellsville man was hurt in a Salineville area crash Wednesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

William L. Ingledue, 19, of East Rochester R. D. 1 was driver of a car which went left of center on Route 45 about three miles south of Salem at 1:45 a. m. today, ran into a ditch and hit an embankment.

Ingledue suffered a laceration of the left forearm, laceration of the right hand and possible chest injuries.

Two passengers injured were Oliver Ingledue, 15, who received a fracture of the hand, and Richard Brown, 16, who suffered bruises of the body.

Officers said the 1953 sedan received extensive damage. Ingledue was charged with driving left of center.

Vernon Richard Rose, 40, of 705 Aten Ave., Wellsville, suffered an elbow bruise in a collision with a truck operated by Thomas Franklin Sawyer, 57, of Dyersburg, Tenn., on Route 39 just east of the Carroll County line.

Officers said Sawyer's truck rounded a curve and the rear skidded left of center, sideswiping Rose's 1961 sedan, causing moderate damage.

3 Ohio Men Are Killed In Plane Crash

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Three Ohio men were killed in the crash of a small airplane Wednesday after they were warned against making the flight because of poor visibility.

The plane crashed into a fog-covered, wooded hillside about six miles north of Ligonier just minutes after taking off from the Johnstown - Cambria County Airport.

The pilot, Rudy Markey, 27, of Medina; Paul Schlairet, 50, and Ralph L. Barton, 46, both of Mount Vernon died in the wreckage of the five-seat plane.

Robert Burman, an airport official, said, "visibility on the field was not bad, but it was poor over the ridge where they crashed. One of the other pilots advised them against leaving."

The men were en route to Mount Vernon from Philadelphia after an overnight stop at Johnstown.

U.S. Snubbed In Virginia's School Case

Court Turns Down Historic Effort To Enter As Plaintiff

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The federal government's historic bid to intervene in the Prince Edward County school case has been rejected on grounds it "will unduly delay and prejudice" the rights of both sides in the drawn-out court battle over the county's integration-closed public schools.

With those words, U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis Wednesday turned down the April 26 request by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy that the federal government be allowed to enter the 10-year-old case as a plaintiff. The government normally enters a racial case as a "friend of the court."

Kennedy had contended federal intervention was necessary "to prevent the circumvention and nullification" of the court's school desegregation order that led Prince Edward to close its public schools in 1959.

Justice Department officials in Washington declined comment until they could study the court's opinion. Kennedy was in New York City to speak to a meeting of state attorneys general.

Prince Edward County, one of the original localities named in the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision, has been without public schools for two years and the county governing body has refused to appropriate funds for next year.

Some 1,450 white children have been educated in private segregated schools financed mostly by county and state tuition grants. Most of the 1,700 school-age Negroes have gone without formal education.

Clay Shop To Start At Palestine Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Clay shop production is slated to get underway the first of the week at the W. S. George Pottery Co., recently leased by the Royal China Co., Inc., of Sebring.

Clay is being unloaded today and repairs to a broken water line under the floor of the plant have been completed in preparation for the start of production.

Oficials said it will be about three weeks before ware processing will begin with kilnplacers, stampers and others called for work.

Some $250,000 worth of new and used equipment is being installed by Royal to provide for improved production at the plant, which had been shut down for some time.

Royal leased the plant to aid in filling A. & P. premium orders the Sebring plant could not handle. About 250 will be employed.

Man Injured As Bulldozer Cuts Power

City Sections Lack Electricity After Mishap On Maine

A 45-year-old city man was injured Wednesday afternoon when his bulldozer snagged a utility pole guy wire at the site of the new Trinity United Presbyterian Church near Maine Blvd., pulling down a bank of transformers and causing a power outage in the Northside and parts of the downtown area for an hour or so.

Willen Baumgarner of Midway Ln. is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible electrical burns, bruises and abrasions suffered when a wire and part of a transformer fell upon the bulldozer.

Baumgarner, who is chairman of the church building committee and employed by Walter Rupert of Leetonia, a contractor on the project, was operating a bulldozer at the site when it apparently ran into the guy wire.

Ohio Power Co. officials said the pressure snapped off the top of the utility pole which, with three transformers and wires, fell down, partly on the bulldozer.

One of the wires, which carried 4,000 volts, brushed by Baumgarner, and there were holes and scorched areas on the bulldozer seat indicating electrical power damage.

The power in the area went off about 4:47, and was largely restored by 5:48 p. m. except on parts of McKinnon Ave. utility officials said. Full power was restored by 6 p. m.

The pole and bank of transformers were recently installed to provide power for the new church.

Baumgarner, who was wearing a metal helmet, was to be X-rayed for possible bone injuries today.

Police said investigation of the mishap is pending. Patrolman K. H. Mooney said he was dispatched at 4:42 p. m. yesterday to investigate a report of an accident and a power failure. He said he found Baumgarner lying about 50 feet from the bulldozer, where he apparently had been moved by a passerby.

Driver Unhurt As Car Plunges Into River

A 32-year-old Toronto area motorist escaped injury in a spectacular accident in which his car landed in the Ohio River after leaving Route 7 a mile north of Toronto Wednesday at 6:45 p. m.

The 1953 sedan driven by Homer Montgomery of Toronto R. D. 1 plunged 30 feet down an embankment after leaving the road and traveled 26 feet into the river, coming to rest in only three feet of water.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Montgomery was headed south and was going into a left curve when the mishap occurred. He told officers a tire blew out.

There are no guardrails at the site, so the car just plunged over the bank and out into the water, landing upright on a bar in the stream.

Only water damage resulted to the vehicle, officers said. Montgomery was cited for driving left of center.

House Action Set On Sales Tax Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The House had up for amendment action today the money bills in the $7.96-million program which Gov. Barron has laid before a special session of the Legislature.

The controversial item in the package — although administration leaders thought they had the votes to pass it — was a 10-month extension of the temporary increase in retail sales tax rates.

This is the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the tax rate on sales above $1 which the Legislature voted at Barron's request last winter. The cutoff date on the higher rates at present is Aug. 31 this year.

Appearing yesterday before the first meeting of the special session which he called, Barron asked extension of the present rates through June 30, 1962, the end of the next fiscal year.

From the proceeds, he wants the Legislature to appropriate $6.96 million for the Department of Public Assistance and $1 million more for his administration's emergency employment program (EEP).

The $6.96-million state outlay for the DPA would enable the agency to pick up $19.3 million in federal funds, for a total of $26.27 million, DPA Director W. Bernard Smith told the House yesterday.

Included in the proposed amount for the DPA is $4.93 million as the state's 30-per-cent matching share for grants under the new federal program of aid to the dependent children (ADC) of the unemployed.

The main reason Barron called the special session was to enable the state to take part in the program. He doesn't want the ADC money distributed in direct handouts. Instead, he proposes requiring recipients to work for their money on EEP public works projects.

Although there was no indication they were going anyplace, there were also at amendment stage in the House today three bills offered as an alternative financing plan for the Barron program.

Their sponsor, Del. T. E. Myles, D-Fayette, estimates they would raise $7.3 million a year. They included a $1-million state liquor store price increase and two bills to extend the retail sales tax — to utility bills and to hotel and motel lodging, meals and beverages — with a 50-cent exemption on beverages.

The House dispensed with committee reference on all 15 bills introduced there yesterday. The Senate sent its 14 bills to committee, so that it had none on the floor when it reconvened today.

As to six non-controversial bills, the House suspended the three - reading bill by a four-fifths vote and passed them yesterday soon

Addressed To Congress

Senate Resolution Asks Protective Ware Tariff

The Ohio Senate Wednesday adopted a joint resolution calling upon Congress to enact legislation to protect the Ohio ceramics industry, and particularly East Liverpool area dinnerware plants, against the inroads of cheaply-produced foreign imports that have led to severe curtailment of the domestic industry and resultant unemployment among skilled workers.

State Reps. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and J. Warren Bettis of Salineville were co-sponsors of the legislation.

The brief resolution pointed out that Ohio at one time not long ago was one of the major clay products producers in the world, but many skilled workers are now unemployed as a result of a decline blamed principally on imports from low labor cost countries such as Japan.

The legislation cites statistics on the number of dinnerware plants in other sections of the country that have closed in recent years and the number of potters thrown out of work as a result. It points out that many of the unemployed are highly-skilled men and women who have devoted most of their lives to the industry.

The resolution asks Congress to enact protective laws, particularly higher tariffs, in order to halt the trend. Sponsors said the resolution is aimed specifically at relieving the plight of Eastern Ohio dinnerware producers, especially those in the East Liverpool area and Columbiana County.

Sewage Plan Sponsors Get Legal Ruling

Prosecutor Asserts State Could Enter If County Delays

St. Clair Township residents petitioning for establishment of a sewage district, in order to provide sewage disposal facilities, can seek an investigation by the Ohio Department of Health if no action is taken by the Columbiana County commissioners, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said Wednesday.

The prosecutor issued an opinion yesterday on the proposed sewage district petitions, requested by the County Health Department which has indicated such districts are needed.

Brokaw said the Ohio Revised Code provides for the establishment of such districts by the commissioners, who are the sole public officials responsible for such creation.

The procedure calls for the Board of Commissioners to create a district "wherever required," and to charge the cost of sewage treatment plants and maintenance back to the area residents benefited. Bonds may be issued and paid as special assessments on tax duplicates.

Brokaw said if the commissioners fail to act, a complaint can be filed with the state director of health who conducts an investigation. The State Health Department is empowered to establish such a district if the investigation indicates the sewer improvements are necessary, Brokaw said.

The commissioners have received a petition from 51 Glenmoor area residents for creation of a sewage district. They indicated the commissioners action on the petition has been slow. Similar petitions have been circulated in the Calcutta area.

The commissioners have visited Medina County in studying various types of sewage disposal facilities, and have indicated they want to meet the proper legal requirements for the procedure.

There had been a letter from a county source which had apparently implied that township trustees had a partial responsibility in the procedure. Brokaw's opinion clarified this.

Man Admits Slaying Canton Coal Operator

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Wilford Burge, 51, has admitted the hatchet slaying Feb. 9 of an East Canton coal mine operator, according to Leo Kelly, Stark County's chief deputy.

Kelly said Burge signed a confession that he killed Ernest Eggert and two days later buried the body on the Eggert farm north of Ohio 30.

The body was uncovered last Saturday after Burge, arrested on a drunk charge, had told Moundsville, W. Va. authorities of watching two men kill Eggert.

Kelly said Burge claimed he was ill in the Eggert residence when Eggert pulled him out of bed and threw him down the stairs in an effort to get him to work.

Man Injured As Bulldozer Cuts Power

City Sections Lack Electricity After Mishap On Maine

A 45-year-old city man was injured Wednesday afternoon when his bulldozer snagged a utility pole guy wire at the site of the new Trinity United Presbyterian Church near Maine Blvd., pulling down a bank of transformers and causing a power outage in the Northside and parts of the downtown area for an hour or so.

Willen Baumgarner of Midway Ln. is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with possible electrical burns, bruises and abrasions suffered when a wire and part of a transformer fell upon the bulldozer.

Baumgarner, who is chairman of the church building committee and employed by Walter Rupert of Leetonia, a contractor on the project, was operating a bulldozer at the site when it apparently ran into the guy wire.

Ohio Power Co. officials said the pressure snapped off the top of the utility pole which, with three transformers and wires, fell down, partly on the bulldozer.

One of the wires, which carried 4,000 volts, brushed by Baumgarner, and there were holes and scorched areas on the bulldozer seat indicating electrical power damage.

The power in the area went off about 4:47, and was largely restored by 5:48 p. m. except on parts of McKinnon Ave. utility officials said. Full power was restored by 6 p. m.

The pole and bank of transformers were recently installed to provide power for the new church.

Baumgarner, who was wearing a metal helmet, was to be X-rayed for possible bone injuries today.

Police said investigation of the mishap is pending. Patrolman K. H. Mooney said he was dispatched at 4:42 p. m. yesterday to investigate a report of an accident and a power failure. He said he found Baumgarner lying about 50 feet from the bulldozer, where he apparently had been moved by a passerby.

Driver Unhurt As Car Plunges Into River

A 32-year-old Toronto area motorist escaped injury in a spectacular accident in which his car landed in the Ohio River after leaving Route 7 a mile north of Toronto Wednesday at 6:45 p. m.

The 1953 sedan driven by Homer Montgomery of Toronto R. D. 1 plunged 30 feet down an embankment after leaving the road and traveled 26 feet into the river, coming to rest in only three feet of water.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Montgomery was headed south and was going into a left curve when the mishap occurred. He told officers a tire blew out.

There are no guardrails at the site, so the car just plunged over the bank and out into the water, landing upright on a bar in the stream.

Only water damage resulted to the vehicle, officers said. Montgomery was cited for driving left of center.

House Action Set On Sales Tax Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The House had up for amendment action today the money bills in the $7.96-million program which Gov. Barron has laid before a special session of the Legislature.

The controversial item in the package — although administration leaders thought they had the votes to pass it — was a 10-month extension of the temporary increase in retail sales tax rates.

This is the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the tax rate on sales above $1 which the Legislature voted at Barron's request last winter. The cutoff date on the higher rates at present is Aug. 31 this year.

Appearing yesterday before the first meeting of the special session which he called, Barron asked extension of the present rates through June 30, 1962, the end of the next fiscal year.

From the proceeds, he wants the Legislature to appropriate $6.96 million for the Department of Public Assistance and $1 million more for his administration's emergency employment program (EEP).

The $6.96-million state outlay for the DPA would enable the agency to pick up $19.3 million in federal funds, for a total of $26.27 million, DPA Director W. Bernard Smith told the House yesterday.

Included in the proposed amount for the DPA is $4.93 million as the state's 30-per-cent matching share for grants under the new federal program of aid to the dependent children (ADC) of the unemployed.

The main reason Barron called the special session was to enable the state to take part in the program. He doesn't want the ADC money distributed in direct handouts. Instead, he proposes requiring recipients to work for their money on EEP public works projects.

Although there was no indication they were going anyplace, there were also at amendment stage in the House today three bills offered as an alternative financing plan for the Barron program.

Their sponsor, Del. T. E. Myles, D-Fayette, estimates they would raise $7.3 million a year. They included a $1-million state liquor store price increase and two bills to extend the retail sales tax — to utility bills and to hotel and motel lodging, meals and beverages — with a 50-cent exemption on beverages.

The House dispensed with committee reference on all 15 bills introduced there yesterday. The Senate sent its 14 bills to committee, so that it had none on the floor when it reconvened today.

As to six non-controversial bills, the House suspended the three - reading bill by a four-fifths vote and passed them yesterday soon

Addressed To Congress

Senate Resolution Asks Protective Ware Tariff

The Ohio Senate Wednesday adopted a joint resolution calling upon Congress to enact legislation to protect the Ohio ceramics industry, and particularly East Liverpool area dinnerware plants, against the inroads of cheaply-produced foreign imports that have led to severe curtailment of the domestic industry and resultant unemployment among skilled workers.

State Reps. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and J. Warren Bettis of Salineville were co-sponsors of the legislation.

The brief resolution pointed out that Ohio at one time not long ago was one of the major clay products producers in the world, but many skilled workers are now unemployed as a result of a decline blamed principally on imports from low labor cost countries such as Japan.

The legislation cites statistics on the number of dinnerware plants in other sections of the country that have closed in recent years and the number of potters thrown out of work as a result. It points out that many of the unemployed are highly-skilled men and women who have devoted most of their lives to the industry.

The resolution asks Congress to enact protective laws, particularly higher tariffs, in order to halt the trend. Sponsors said the resolution is aimed specifically at relieving the plight of Eastern Ohio dinnerware producers, especially those in the East Liverpool area and Columbiana County.

Sewage Plan Sponsors Get Legal Ruling

Prosecutor Asserts State Could Enter If County Delays

St. Clair Township residents petitioning for establishment of a sewage district, in order to provide sewage disposal facilities, can seek an investigation by the Ohio Department of Health if no action is taken by the Columbiana County commissioners, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said Wednesday.

The prosecutor issued an opinion yesterday on the proposed sewage district petitions, requested by the County Health Department which has indicated such districts are needed.

Brokaw said the Ohio Revised Code provides for the establishment of such districts by the commissioners, who are the sole public officials responsible for such creation.

The procedure calls for the Board of Commissioners to create a district "wherever required," and to charge the cost of sewage treatment plants and maintenance back to the area residents benefited. Bonds may be issued and paid as special assessments on tax duplicates.

Brokaw said if the commissioners fail to act, a complaint can be filed with the state director of health who conducts an investigation. The State Health Department is empowered to establish such a district if the investigation indicates the sewer improvements are necessary, Brokaw said.

The commissioners have received a petition from 51 Glenmoor area residents for creation of a sewage district. They indicated the commissioners action on the petition has been slow. Similar petitions have been circulated in the Calcutta area.

The commissioners have visited Medina County in studying various types of sewage disposal facilities, and have indicated they want to meet the proper legal requirements for the procedure.

There had been a letter from a county source which had apparently implied that township trustees had a partial responsibility in the procedure. Brokaw's opinion clarified this.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert McKinney, editor and publisher of the Sante Fe New Mexican, is President Kennedy's choice for ambassador to Switzerland.

The nomination, made public Wednesday, is subject to Senate confirmation.

McKinney, 50, is a former assistant secretary of the interior and has served in the past as U.S. representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Man Admits Slaying Canton Coal Operator

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Wilford Burge, 51, has admitted the hatchet slaying Feb. 9 of an East Canton coal mine operator, according to Leo Kelly, Stark County's chief deputy.

Kelly said Burge signed a confession that he killed Ernest Eggert and two days later buried the body on the Eggert farm north of Ohio 30.

The body was uncovered last Saturday after Burge, arrested on a drunk charge, had told Moundsville, W. Va. authorities of watching two men kill Eggert.

Kelly said Burge claimed he was ill in the Eggert residence when Eggert pulled him out of bed and threw him down the stairs in an effort to get him to work.

U.S. Envoy's Auto Burned In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Several hundred pro-Castro students burned U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso's automobile Wednesday night at Caracas University while he was attending an exhibit.

The students crowded around the car parked on the university campus, yanked the driver from the front seat and set the vehicle afire.

Government officials charged the students acted on order of "well known leftist leaders." The Caracas press has accused university officials of being too lenient with Communists in the student body who staged a bloody uprising late last year.

Moscoso did not see the attack and discounted its significance, saying: "I must say that I feel this does not reflect the true feeling of the people of Venezuela."

A Puerto Rican, Moscoso was appointed ambassador to Caracas last March by President Kennedy in a move to improve U.S. relations with Latin America.

But even before his arrival recently, Moscoso had been the target of student demonstrations denouncing the U.S. role in the ill-fated invasion of Cuba by exiled opponents of Fidel Castro.

The students had been trying to get up a demonstration ever since Moscoso arrived in Caracas but had been thwarted by the vigilance of police, acting on orders of President Romulo Betancourt. However, police traditionally stay off Venezuelan campuses unless invited to enter by school authorities, and Moscoso and his party went unguarded to see the exhibit at the school of architecture.

Moscoso waited in the office of Rafael Devenzi, the university president, while school authorities restored order.

Alejandro Oropeza Castillo, governor of the Caracas District, and scores of police arrived within minutes after the incident was reported but were not called into the campus.

Governor Oropeza accompanied Moscoso back to the U.S. Embassy.

The university was the center of an uprising that took 12 lives in seven violent days ending last Dec. 2.

Mrs. Clarence Green was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Jane Ann McLain, Mrs. James Sanko and Mrs. J. Warren Bettis sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Neitz.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Mable Kirby, flag chairman of the Wellsville chapter.

The Rev. John C. Little, general Presbyter of the Mahoning Presbytery, was guest speaker. He used the theme of Christian living, asserting "we are living in an age of fear and hate. We can match this hate with Christian love and the spirit of devotion."

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. William Mohler of Canfield, Mrs. Willard Leggett of Sherrodsville and Miss Elsie Gilson of Pittsburgh, all members of the Wellsville chapter, and Miss Ethel King, also of Pittsburgh.

Willis Dixon, 46, of Hookstown R. D. 1, who suffered severe facial cuts Tuesday night, was not found in Blinn's Bar on Dresden Ave. but rather at a location across the street, Roy Blinn, proprietor of the tavern, told police today.

Blinn's version corrected an ambiguous police report that indicated the injured man was found at the tavern. Blinn said two men who found Dixon on Dresden Ave. made the telephone report to police from his tavern, leading to the report an officer was dispatched there.

But How Did It All End?

One year ago, the Republic of Congo had not emerged from Africa. It was still an area in that vast continent—a part of colonial Belgium.

Beginning June 30, when the republic leaped into the headlines, the Congolese and their violence monopolized news headlines.

Americans, especially seemed to believe the outcome of the battle for men's minds might be turning on the pulling and hauling, the wheeling and dealing, the marching and counter-marching of the undisciplined masses of these people in Africa who were trying to start a government without anything they needed—education, equipment, tradition, respect for authority and without authority, itself.

Day after day, the news from the Congo was awaited anxiously. The Communists were doing this and so. The United Nations was reacting thus and so. The Belgians said this and they said that. A parade of Congolese leaders, obviously self-conscious in their roles of leadership, all of them painfully unprepared for the heavy responsibility they were bearing, passed through the news.

THE SECRETARY GENERAL of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold, was tagged for extinction by the Soviet Union because he ruled the Congo off limits for Communist exploitation, the same thing that befell his predecessor Trygve Lie when he ruled Korea off limits for Red expansion.

The United Nations, itself, tagged and buckled under the burden of responsibility for a new nation with no know-how and no know-who. It was a toss-up who would come out of the chaos as the best bet to lead the Congo - Lumumba, Kasavubu, Mobutu, Tshombe.

The "Congo crisis," as it came to be called universally, was going to mark a turning point in the history of mankind. It almost certainly was going to wreck the United Nations. In all probability it was going to prove that the United States had lost its international grip.

It was everything that everybody said it was, which was everything that came to everybody's mind in a period of stress and excitement. But, as is the way with crises, the Congo crisis cooled down.

It suddenly became apparent to the excitable elements of modern civilization that the new turning point in the history of mankind, the thing that almost certainly would break the United Nations and prove the United States had lost its grip was Cuba. Or was it Laos? Or was it South Vietnam? Or Berlin?

Wherever it is, the crisis will be hair-raising.

IN THE MEANTIME it's comforting to know that Secretary General Hammarskjold, a patient man who sometimes must have to count to a million before answering, to keep from showing annoyance, feels that the political crisis in the Congo has quieted down.

He has told President Kasavubu that $10 million in help should be forthcoming from the United Nations if Congolese affairs are made shipshape—not the way they are in some of the well-established countries but the way political scientists said they should be. And President Kasavubu has said the Republic of Congo will do everything it can to make them that way. He seems to be in control.

All the news now is about other places—Laos, South Vietnam and, soon, Berlin. There is never any dearth of places where mankind, the United Nations and the United States go on trial. There is only a dearth of follow-through on the outcome of the crises that have become part of the routine of life in our time.

Part Of The Whole

Protests have been registered over the city's street oiling program. Some people don't care for it because of the mess and inconvenience which often result.

As taxpayers, they have every right to register such protests. And to the administration's credit, it should be mentioned that the protests have been recognized to the point where the oiling will be skipped if so desired.

The one disturbing aspect of Wednesday's Letter To The Editor on the subject was the condemnation of the city income tax which is helping to finance the oiling project. It seems unfair to be overly critical of the entire tax program because one phase has proven unwelcome. A controversy over street oiling doesn't seem to justify an all-out attack on the total benefits which are possible under the tax.

There Just Is No Comparison

Is violence on television no worse than violence in books, as was asserted before a Senate investigation last week?

The television industry should be first to cry out when it is represented as being like the book industry. TV is a new form of communication and should resent being compared with old forms.

But it makes crying out unlikely when the comparison is made to suggest that violence blueprinted on a TV screen is no worse than violence described in a book. Everybody else should cry out when such a comparison is made.

Yet it continues to be made as if it had meaning. Apologists for overdosage of violence on TV screens say it has no more effect than "dime novels" had in an earlier day; that violence always has been a standard theme in literature.

The kind of child mind most likely to be influenced strongly by the visualization of human savagery and cruelty on a TV screen is not the kind that withstood the impact of the "dime novel." The susceptible child is not likely to be child with reading ability.

He is more likely to be the same kind of child who was dangerously susceptible to violence in motion pictures. The child movie audience was subject, however, to the restrictions of admission charges, hours of operation, pre-censorship of scripts and films by the movie industry's own control board and the taste of the theater managers. The child TV audience is subject to no restrictions at all.

The child whose reading level was reached when he discovered "comic books" that weren't comical is a setup for television violence.

He is likely to be the child who never will learn to read well enough to learn things that might neutralize the impression made on his mind.

We are not worrying in this instance about children as a whole but about children over-susceptible to depiction of violence and cruelty.

It is absurd for any TV apologist to argue that there are no such children, or that they can be compared with children of yesteryear who survived the depiction of violence in books.

There are children who are immune to deadly diseases, too, but no one in his right mind would argue that all children are immune because some children are immune. The false comparison insults the intelligence.

After The Classroom

The end of each school year brings word of the retirement of more veteran teachers.

Such retirements are noted with regret in cases where those leaving have proven to be truly good teachers through effective instruction in academic subjects and through the development of human understanding, patience and other ideals in their students.

Anyone who has done "a good job" in the pottery, in the mill, on the farm or in some other line of endeavor after a lifetime of work deserves a sincere tribute from fellow workers, from employer and from friends.

But for the teacher, in whose hands we entrust the preparation of our girls and boys for a life ahead, praise for doing "a good job" should come from the community as a whole. A teacher's devotion to duty is reflected in men and women who have scattered to the four winds over the years and continued to spread the seeds of learning and proper conduct manyfold.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Gentlemen of the Class of 1961: In view of the condition the world is in as you face its problems, your Alma Mater for the first time offers a year's supply of headache powders with each diploma.

You have gone through college the hard way. Hard to get in, hard to finish and hard to finance.

At times your fathers must have wondered whether they were helping you get an education or qualifying for a TV show called "The Price Is Prohibitive."

Keep a stiff upper lip, a pocket-geography, a stout heart and a list of air raid shelters.

The employment situation is not too good but I am sure some of you leave the campus with $100,000 or more as a big league bonus pitcher.

Summer jobs will be fewer but you can do well as lifeguards if you don't demand fringe benefits for dragging a pretty girl from the surf or mediation in a dispute over rescuing a fat man who has gone down for the eighth time.

If you land a job at twice what you are worth in business don't let your first question be "What's the pension?"

Do not believe the age of opportunity has ended. There are many openings in the new bowling alley and fibre-boat construction industries.

The Peace Corps offers you a chance to get lost, with expenses paid. Eating the food in primitive countries should come easy after four years of life in college dining halls and off-campus beaneries.

If you think you may have a hard time making both ends meet, think of your old man. You have but to look at his face to realize he has "gone for broke" while you have gone for football and track.

Gentlemen, I leave you with this note of cheer: Automation may be delayed by strikes, men are needed in the guided missile trade, there is a prospect of shorter hours for student riots, and your transfer to the moon is always possible.

FEDERAL BUREAU says New York City has lowest wages of U.S. big cities. Just seems so after picking wrong horse, loss of gasoline in traffic jams and a round of musicals and nightclubs.

John Perona, famed proprietor of El Morocco, began as a bus boy and was once a sparring partner of Luis Firpo. He opened a small restaurant in New York shortly after coming to America and decided later to go all out for "class." Finally insisted on black tie and forbade tan shoes after sundown.

Bill Veeck who has sold White Sox to partner was only real showman in baseball. His retirement means a big drop in new ideas for pleasing customers.

Stormy Seas

Waterfront Leader Gains Power

By Victor Riesel

Covering the waterfront is no rowboat business. When a crisis, such as this recent one, hits the ocean docks, the river piers and the big city ports on the rims of the Great Lakes, there's well over $50 billion worth of cargo involved.

Victor Riesel

Because these billions directly involve about one job out of every four across the land — and in one fashion or another keep every industrial and home fire as well, going daily — the nation soon will be conscious of the influence of a labor leader it little knows. So will the President of the U.S., a batch of cabinet members, and a larger congregation of governors and industrialists who've been overlooking him.

He is Paul Hall, leader of the Seafarers International Union (SIU) who overlooks mighty little during a "beef," a strike crisis. To many he's a newcomer, to us who know him, he's a master strategist.

STRIKES, when he feels they must be called, are a science to this husky, often open shirted, big-city type viking.

To him now most longshoremen, most seafarers' leaders, most waterfront workers, railroad union men and even some influential regional teamsters look as the symbol of the next generation of national labor leadership.

Hall works from the bottom up. When he struck New York Harbor just before last inauguration day, and national leaders of both parties were gnashing their teeth into expensive dental bills, Hall made certain that his pickets would not suffer from the famous blizzard.

They were strung out along paralyzed rail lines leading to the harbor — and to them he sent special heating units, winter underwear, mobile canteens, "foul weather gear," and galoshes.

Then he went to deal with Gov. Rockefller, President Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Goldberg.

What John Lewis was to the '30s, Hall could well be to the '60s. For, this blondish seafarer in fact, if not in name, is the force behind the official leadership of a network of unions whose table of organization could match the Navy's even if the nation knows virtually little of it.

Atop this coalition of unions is the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department.

THIS DIVISION, operating out of the Washington national labor headquarters, which Hall eschews for his own modern, electronically operated Brooklyn office, has 32 national unions.

Some of the Maritime Department's units are not seagoing. But all are related to the sea — such as the shipyard workers.

In turn, the Maritime Department coordinates and its liaison for some 25 port councils ranging from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts and the Pacific as well.

Biggest of these is the Port Council of New York Harbor and vicinity. This report is no place for an analysis of Paul Hall's mystique. What ever it is, it's all prevading and convincing — for he had brought into the New York Port Council some 40 national unions.

They are represented by their regional people in more than 120 locals. These range all the way from teamsters and white collar city employes to railroad employes.

When they get word of a strike, their official leader, Tony Scotto, telephones or telegraphs the locals and nothing moves.

ALL THIS is the groundwork apparatus.

In this council are the carpenters, the operating engineers, the tugboat men, the boilermakers and a lot of craftsmen you would not usually link with the waterfront — but try and run a dock without them.

To this Hall and his colleagues have added something called the National Committee for Maritime Bargaining. This is made up of 10 unions with some 150,000 members.

These include masters, mates, stewards, cooks, ship engineers as well as seamen. When this committee and the port councils strike, they deaden a $50 billion import-export industry.

For the past two months they have talked quietly of such a strike. In one of the final sessions with the ship owners, Hall said in effect: We're ready to extend the contract a year without increasing shipping costs. But we want a joint labor-management committee whose decisions will be the voice of the industry.

All other unions which have been watching their employers shift to lower cost nations, be it to make movies or typewriters, are watching Paul Hall and his "beef."

They wait to see if he can force ship companies to bring their vessels back from foreign registry to American flag operation. There's more here than appears on the waterfront.

Lenient, Legal, Lethal?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Lenient, legal or lethal.

Those are the choices for the West and Russia in settling their Berlin argument.

This city—whose ties are with West Germany—lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, which the West does not recognize as a legitimate government.

All supplies and people bound for West Berlin must pass through East Germany, which is under the Russian thumb. That's the main Russian weapon in this dispute.

Highly prosperous West Berlin —unlike the much less affluent East Berlin, which the Communists run—has become a pain to Russia.

It's a Western showcase, a Western outpost in the heart of a Communist land. And Khrushchev says it's used to create trouble.

It's also a harbor for Germans fleeing communism in East Germany.

Stalin tried to put an end to all this in 1948 by shutting off Western supplies to the city. President Truman wrecked that move with an airlift.

The West—meaning the United States, Britain and France — has troops in West Berlin and make this argument, based on agreements with Russia growing out of World War II:

It has a right to keep troops there and the land-water-rail-air routes — over which people and supplies for West Berlin travel through East Germany—must be kept open.

This is the West's legal argument. As of now it is standing on that.

But for years Khrushchev has been threatening that the wartime agreements are outdated and new solutions must be found. Last weekend he issued a statement on what he thinks must be done.

He said it's time for signing a peace treaty — meaning a treaty which has been pending since World War II — with the East German government. For the West to do this would mean it had caved in and recognized the East German government.

He said further that West Berlin—notice he didn't say Communist East Berlin—would be demilitarized with the signing of a peace treaty. In other words, the Allies would then lose any claim to a right to have troops in Berlin.

West Berlin, he said, would be considered a "free" and demilitarized city. But he said that if the United States balks, this will happen.

Russia will sign the peace treaty with East Germany and turn over to the East German Communists control of all the supply routes to West Berlin. Russia controls them now because the West says it won't do business with East Germany.

Once the East Germans controlled the routes, the Western powers would have to do business with them. In doing so, the West in effect, would be recognizing the East German government as legitimate, whether it did so formally or not.

This is what the Russians would call a legal settlement.

It's possible—when Khrushchev forces the issues as he is expected to, perhaps after next October —the two sides could work out a situation through compromises which neither is suggesting at this point.

Compromise of the two opposing positions would be a lenient solution.

But if Russia turns over control of West Berlin's access routes to the East Germans and the latter then shut off those routes in order to isolate Berlin, what would the West do?

In the first place, the East Germans wouldn't shut off the routes without a go-ahead from Russia because without Russian backing any attempt to close the routes against Allied military force would be an empty gesture.

But—once the routes were shut and the Allies decided to use force to batter their way through to Berlin — the Russians would have to use force to stop them or face world embarrassment.

This action and counter-action, which might mean war, would be the lethal solution.

Khrushchev, since he's talked so long and so much about getting Berlin out of his hair, must eventually take some action or appear to have backed down under Allied resistance.

Yet, if the Allies let the Russians and East Germans shut them off from West Berlin, their allies everywhere certainly would lose faith in them.

Cold War Benefit

By Joel Seldin

African Students In U.S. Find Friends

Students having trouble finding summer jobs this year will have no problem if they can get themselves caught in the middle in the cold war. The maxim is illustrated by a sudden rash of efforts to find summer jobs for African exchange students.

The latest was reported last Wednesday by the AFL-CIO, which said it will encourage its member unions and central bodies not only to find jobs for African students, but will underwrite up to half the cost if the unions take African students on for the summer as staff members.

Last week, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg assigned Donald Beatty, of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, to work full time on finding summer jobs for foreign students, with emphasis on the problems of the Africans.

A number of foundations are trying to help the Africans, including the Afro-American Student Foundation, The National Student Christian Federation, and the African American Institute.

LIKE MILLIONS of other students in this country, the Africans find it necessary to earn money during the summer to pay for room, board and other necessities when they return to school next fall.

Frank Montero, of the Afro-American Student Foundation, estimates there are 1,800 African students in the United States, of whom about 500 are in need of summer jobs. Like most other students, the Africans are having a hard time because of the scarcity of jobs this year.

The Africans do have special problems. Most of them are Negroes and are caught up in this country's difficulties with racial discrimination in employment.

Those about to spend their first summer here are also unfamiliar with resources for job counseling and job placements. But a good deal of the effort being made on the Africans' behalf stems, in part, from the position of their home countries in the East-West rivalry for the allegiance of the new African republics.

THE AFL-CIO program is a case in point. The labor federation, with the government's encouragement, has been courting African labor leaders for some time.

It has contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars for African labor in various ways, but mostly through the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, which has affiliates in 22 African countries.

The federation's president, George Meany, expressed concern over the job troubles of African students as far back as April.

In a letter to international unions and central labor bodies, he reaffirmed the AFL-CIO's opposition to colonialism and stressed the importance for Africa of a strong labor movement. He urged the unions to find summer jobs in private industry for African exchange students.

Last week, there was disturbing news for the AFL-CIO from Africa. Representatives of 38 countries met at Casablanca and set up the All-African Trade Union Federation. Through the prodding of delegates from Ghana and Guinea, it was decided that AATUF members must sever all ties with other labor federations.

ON ITS FACE, the resolution was neutral, because it barred affiliation not only with Free World federations but also with the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

Actually, the WFTU has few members in Africa and stands to lose little. Western leaders fear the "neutralism" involved in the Africans' decision has a strong pro-Russian tinge.

A few days ago, on his own initiative, Mr. Meany decided that helping students to find summer jobs in private industry would not solve the problem. He drafted the plan for underwriting up to half the cost if unions will employ the Africans, and is now sending out letters outlining the proposal to various union leaders, a spokesman for the federation said.

The spokesman could not estimate the cost of the new program because it is not yet known how many unions will ask for the reimbursement, or how many will employ African students.

Mr. Meany did not link directly the news from Africa with the new job program, but he has been concerned for some time with the signs of anti-Western feeling among some African labor leaders. Though the developments in Africa may not have triggered the new program, neither did they diminish the odds that the Africans will stand a better chance than most students of finding summer jobs this year.

Letters To The Editor

I see where Hancock County is in the news again. A murder has been committed in Trumbull County, Ohio, and the editor of The Review is trying to make Hancock County his whipping boy.

I live in Hancock County and I like it fine. I will admit that it is not a perfect county. Everyone knows that Columbiana County is the only perfect county in the world. East Liverpool is the only perfect city in the world. And I would like to add that you are the only perfect editor in the world, but to do so would leave me open to a great many slander suits from other editors and ridicule from my friends.

But let's get back to Hancock County. I will admit that the officers in Hancock County are lax in performing their duties. These are some of the duties they do not perform: No. 1—Officers will not, without their superior officer's permission, borrow a TV set from the police station so a "friend" can watch Highway Patrol or Capt. Kangaroo; No. 2—Officers are forbidden to play footsie with anybody's wife or girl friend; insurance companies have canceled policies for less than this; No. 3—Officers should not become so fond of department stores and supermarkets that they can't wait until opening time to enter, but must enter at night so great is their haste to fondle the merchandise and goodies. There are a great many other duties that the officers of Hancock County do not perform, but we won't trade ours for yours.

How Old's Time?

"How old is time? Probably older than one thinks. Modern geochronology, the science of telling time by nature's built-in clocks, is constantly pushing the history of the stars, the world and man deeper into the past.

Less than four centuries have passed since Archbishop Ussher assigned the date of creation as 4004 B.C., the National Geographic Society recalls. The Irish Biblical chronologist was much more conservative, however, than the ancient Chaldeans. They allowed 473,000 years for the age of man and two million for the universe.

In recent years, scientists have been able to make more precise guesses about the origin of things through new techniques of studying the composition of stars, meteorites, earth's rocks, fossils, sediments, ancient wood, prehistoric skeletons and tools. A prime technique is the measurement of radioactivity in certain elements.

The universe's birthday moved backward sharply in 1955 when astronomers of three observatories in California — Palomar, Mount Wilson, and Lick—reported a probable age of about 5.4 billion years.

Current estimates suggest that the universe is from 10 to 13 billion years old. A cluster of distant galaxies seems to be about 25 billion years old.

The earth's beginning is now dated by science as being between 3½ and 4½ billion years, though the rocks and minerals in its crust are somewhat younger. The oceans are believed to be less than 600 million years old.

But How Did It All End?

One year ago, the Republic of Congo had not emerged from Africa. It was still an area in that vast continent—a part of colonial Belgium.

Beginning June 30, when the republic leaped into the headlines, the Congolese and their violence monopolized news headlines.

Americans, especially seemed to believe the outcome of the battle for men's minds might be turning on the pulling and hauling, the wheeling and dealing, the marching and counter-marching of the undisciplined masses of these people in Africa who were trying to start a government without anything they needed—education, equipment, tradition, respect for authority and without authority itself.

Day after day, the news from the Congo was awaited anxiously. The Communists were doing this and so. The United Nations was reacting this and so. The Belgians said this and they said that. A parade of Congolese leaders, obviously self-conscious in their roles of leadership, all of them painfully unprepared for the heavy responsibility they were bearing, passed through the news.

THE SECRETARY GENERAL of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold, was tagged for extinction by the Soviet Union because he ruled the Congo off limits for Communist exploitation, the same thing that befell his predecessor, Trygve Lie when he ruled Korea off limits for Red expansion.

The United Nations, itself, sagged and buckled under the burden of responsibility for a new nation with no know-how and no know-who. It was a lesson who would come out of the chaos as the test bet to lead the Congo - Lumumba, Kasavubu, Mobutu, Tshombe.

The "Congo crisis," as it came to be called universally, was going to mark a turning point in the history of mankind. It almost certainly was going to wreck the United Nations. In all probability it was going to prove that the United States had lost its international grip.

It was everything that everybody said it was, which was everything that came to everybody's mind in a period of stress and excitement. But, as is the way with crises, the Congo crisis cooled down.

It suddenly became apparent to the watchful elements of modern civilization that the new turning point in the history of mankind, the thing that almost certainly would break the United Nations and prove the United States had lost its grip was Cuba. Or was it Laos? Or was it South Vietnam? Or Berlin?

Wherever it is, the crisis will be hair-raising.

IN THE MEANTIME it's comforting to know that Secretary General Hammarskjold, a patient man who sometimes must have to count to a million before answering, to keep from showing annoyance, feels that the political crisis in the Congo has quieted down.

He has told President Kasavubu that $10 million in help should be forthcoming from the United Nations if Congolese affairs are made dispatchage—not the way they are in some of the well-established countries but the way political scientists said they should be. And President Kasavubu has said the Republic of Congo will do everything it can to make them that way. He seems to be in control.

All the news now is about other places—Laos, South Vietnam and, soon, Berlin. There is never any dearth of places where mankind, the United Nations and the United States go on trial. There is only a dearth of follow-through on the outcome of the crises that have become part of the routine of life in our time.

Part Of The Whole

Protests have been registered over the city's street oiling program. Some people don't care for it because of the mess and inconvenience which often result.

As taxpayers, they have every right to register such protests. And to the administration's credit, it should be mentioned that the protests have been recognized to the point where the oiling will be stopped if so desired.

The one disturbing aspect of Wednesday's Letter To The Editor on the subject was the condemnation of the city income tax which is helping to finance the oiling project. It seems unfair to be overly critical of the entire tax program because one phase has proven unwelcome. A controversy over street oiling doesn't seem to justify an all-out attack on the total benefits which are possible under the tax.

There Just Is No Comparison

Is violence on television no worse than violence in books, as was asserted before a Senate investigation last week?

The television industry should be first to cry out when it is represented as being like the book industry. TV is a new form of communication and should resent being compared with old forms.

But it makes crying out unlikely when the comparison is made to suggest that violence blueprinted on a TV screen is no worse than violence described in a book. Everybody else should cry out when such a comparison is made.

Yet it continues to be made as if it had meaning. Apologists for overdosage of violence on TV screens say it has no more effect than "dime novels" had in an earlier day; that violence always has been a standard theme in literature.

The kind of child mind most likely to be influenced strongly by the visualization of human savagery and cruelty on a TV screen is not the kind that withstood the impact of the "dime novel." The susceptible child is not likely to be child with reading ability.

He is more likely to be the same kind of child who was dangerously susceptible to violence in motion pictures. The child movie audience was subject, however, to the restrictions of admission charges, hours of operation, pre-censorship of scripts and films by the movie industry's own control board and the taste of the theater managers. The child TV audience is subject to no restrictions at all.

The child whose reading level was reached when he discovered "comic books" that weren't comical is a setup for television violence.

He is likely to be the child who never will learn to read well enough to learn things that might neutralize the impression made on his mind.

We are not worrying in this instance about children as a whole but about children over-susceptible to depiction of violence and cruelty.

It is absurd for any TV apologist to argue that there are no such children, or that they can be compared with children of yesteryear who survived the depiction of violence in books.

There are children who are immune to deadly diseases, too, but no one in his right mind would argue that all children are immune because some children are immune. The false comparison insults the intelligence.

After The Classroom

The end of each school year brings word of the retirement of more veteran teachers.

Such retirements are noted with regret in cases where those leaving have proven to be truly good teachers through effective instruction in academic subjects and through the development of human understanding, patience and other ideals in their students.

Anyone who has done "a good job" in the pottery, in the mill, on the farm or in some other line of endeavor after a lifetime of work deserves a sincere tribute from fellow workers, from employer and from friends.

But for the teacher, in whose hands we entrust the preparation of our girls and boys for a life ahead, praise for doing "a good job" should come from the community as a whole. A teacher's devotion to duty is reflected in men and women who have scattered to the four winds over the years and continued to spread the seeds of learning and proper conduct manyfold.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Gentlemen of the Class of 1961: In view of the condition the world is in as you face its problems, your Alma Mater for the first time offers a year's supply of headache powders with each diploma.

You have gone through college the hard way. Hard to get in, hard to finish and hard to finance.

At times your fathers must have wondered whether they were helping you get an education or qualifying for a TV show called "The Price Is Prohibitive."

Keep a stiff upper lip, a pocket-geography, a stout heart and a list of air raid shelters.

The employment situation is not too good but I am sure some of you leave the campus with $100,000 or more as a big league bonus pitcher.

Summer jobs will be fewer but you can do well as lifeguards if you don't demand fringe benefits for dragging a pretty girl from the surf or mediation in a dispute over rescuing a fat man who has gone down for the eighth time.

If you land a job at twice what you are worth in business don't let your first question be "What's the pension?"

Do not believe the age of opportunity has ended. There are many openings in the new bowling alley and fibre-boat construction industries.

The Peace Corps offers you a chance to get lost, with expenses paid. Eating the food in primitive countries should come easy after four years of life in college dining halls and off-campus beaneries.

If you think you may have a hard time making both ends meet, think of your old man. You have but to look at his face to realize he has "gone for broke" while you have gone for football and track.

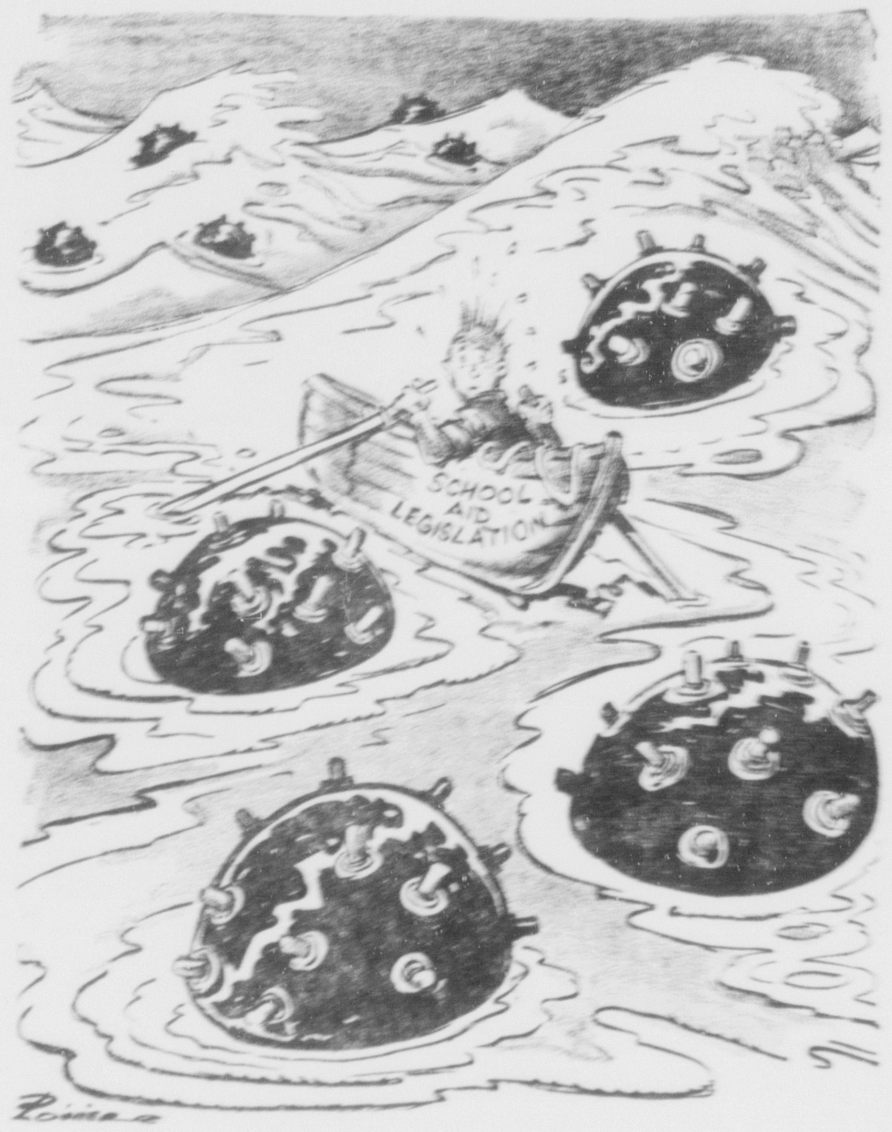

Gentlemen, I leave you with this note of cheer: Automation may be delayed by strikes, men are needed in the guided missile trade, there is a prospect of shorter hours for student riots, and your transfer to the moon is always possible.

FEDERAL BUREAU says New York City has lowest wages of U.S. big cities. Just seems so after picking wrong horse, loss of gasoline in traffic jams and a round of musicals and nightclubs.

John Perona, famed proprietor of El Morocco, began as a bus boy and was once a sparring partner of Luis Firpo. He opened a small restaurant in New York shortly after coming to America and decided later to go all out for "class." Finally insisted on black tie and forbade tan shoes after sundown.

Bill Veeck who has sold White Sox to partner was only real showman in baseball. His retirement means a big drop in new ideas for pleasing customers.

Stormy Seas

Waterfront Leader Gains Power

By Victor Riesel

Covering the waterfront is no nautical business. When a crisis, such as this recent one, hits the ocean docks, the river piers and the big city ports on the rims of the Great Lakes, there's well over $50 billion worth of cargo involved.

Victor Riesel

Because these billions directly involve about one job out of every four across the land — and in one fashion or another keep every industrial and home nation soon will be conscious of the influence of a labor leader it little knows. So will the President of the U.S., a batch of cabinet members, and a larger congregation of governors and industrialists who've been overlooking him.

He is Paul Hall, leader of the Seafarers International Union (SIU) who overlooks mighty little during a "beef," a strike crisis. To many he's a newcomer, to us who know him, he's a master strategist.

STRIKES, when he feels they must be called, are a science to this husky, often open shirted, big-city type viking.

To him now most longshoremen, most seafarers' leaders, most waterfront workers, railroad union men and even some influential regional teamsters look as the symbol of the next generation of national labor leadership.

Hall works from the bottom up. When he struck New York Harbor just before last inauguration day, and national leaders of both parties were gnashing their teeth into expensive dental balls, Hall made certain that his pickets would not suffer from the famous blizzard.

They were strung out along paralyzed rail lines leading to the harbor — and to them he sent special heating units, winter underwear, mobile canteens, "foul weather gear," and galoshes.

Then he went to deal with Governor Rockefeller, President Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Goldberg.

What John Lewis was to the '30s, Hall could well be to the '60s. For, this blondish seafarer in fact, if not in name, is the force behind the official leadership of a network of unions whose table of organization could match the Navy's even if the nation knows virtually little of it.

Atop this coalition of unions is the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department.

THIS DIVISION, operating out of the Washington national labor headquarters, which Hall eschews for his own modern, electronically operated Brooklyn office, has 32 national unions.

Some of the Maritime Department's units are not seagoing. But all are related to the sea — such as the shipyard workers.

In turn, the Maritime Department coordinates and its liaison for some 25 port councils ranging from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts and the Pacific as well.

Biggest of these is the Port Council of New York Harbor and vicinity. This report is no place for an analysis of Paul Hall's mystique. What ever it is, it's all prevading and convincing — for he had brought into the New York Port Council some 40 national unions.

They are represented by their regional people in more than 120 locals. These range all the way from teamsters and white collar city employes to railroad employes.

When they get word of a strike, their official leader, Tony Scotto, telephones or telegraphs the locals and nothing moves.

ALL THIS is the groundwork apparatus.

In this council are the carpenters, the operating engineers, the tugboat men, the boilermakers and a lot of craftsmen you would not usually link with the waterfront — but try and run a dock without them.

To this Hall and his colleagues have added something called the National Committee for Maritime Bargaining. This is made up of 10 unions with some 150,000 members.

These include masters, mates, stewards, mess, ship engineers as well as seamen. When this committee and the port councils strike, they deaden a $50 billion import-export industry.

For the past two months they have talked quietly of such a strike. In one of the final sessions with the ship owners, Hall said in effect, We're ready to extend the contract a year without increasing shipping costs. But we want a joint labor-management committee whose decisions will be the voice of the industry.

All other unions which have been watching their employers shift to lower cost nations, be it to make movies or typewriters, are watching Paul Hall and his colleagues.

They want to see if he can force ship companies to bring their vessels back from foreign registry to American flag operation. There's more here than appears on the waterfront.

Lenient, Legal, Lethal?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Lenient, legal or lethal.

Those are the choices for the West and Russia in settling their Berlin argument.

This city—whose ties are with West Germany—lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, which the West does not recognize as a legitimate government.

All supplies and people bound for West Berlin must pass through East Germany, which is under the Russian thumb. That's the main Russian weapon in this dispute.

Highly prosperous West Berlin —unlike the much less affluent East Berlin, which the Communists run—has become a pain to Russia.

It's a Western showcase, a Western outpost in the heart of a Communist land. And Khrushchev says it's used to create trouble.

It's also a harbor for Germans fleeing communism in East Germany.

Stalin tried to put an end to all this in 1948 by shutting off Western supplies to the city. President Truman wrecked that move with an airlift.

The West—meaning the United States, Britain and France — has troops in West Berlin and make this argument, based on agreements with Russia growing out of World War II:

It has a right to keep troops there and the land-water-rail-air routes — over which people and supplies for West Berlin travel through East Germany—must be kept open.

This is the West's legal argument. As of now it is standing on that.

But for years Khrushchev has been threatening that the wartime agreements are outdated and new solutions must be found. Last weekend he issued a statement on what he thinks must be done.

He said it's time for signing a peace treaty — meaning a treaty which has been pending since World War II — with the East German government. For the West to do this would mean it had caved in and recognized the East German government.

He said further that West Berlin—notice he didn't say Communist East Berlin—would be demilitarized with the signing of a peace treaty. In other words, the Allies would then lose any claim to a right to have troops in Berlin.

West Berlin, he said, would be considered a "free" and demilitarized city. But he said that if the United States balks, this will happen:

Russia will sign the peace treaty with East Germany and turn over to the East German Communists control of all the supply routes to West Berlin. Russia controls them now because the West says it won't do business with East Germany.

Once the East Germans controlled the routes, the Western powers would have to do business with them. In doing so, the West in effect, would be recognizing the East German government as legitimate, whether it did so formally or not.

This is what the Russians would call a legal settlement.

It's possible—when Khrushchev forces the issues as he is expected to, perhaps after next October the two sides could work out a situation through compromises which neither is suggesting at this point.

Compromise of the two opposing positions would be a lenient solution.

But if Russia turns over control of West Berlin's access routes to the East Germans and the latter then shut off those routes in order to isolate Berlin, what would the West do?

In the first place, the East Germans wouldn't shut off the routes without a go-ahead from Russia because without Russian backing any attempt to close the routes against Allied military force would be an empty gesture.

But—once the routes were shut and the Allies decided to use force to batter their way through to Berlin — the Russians would have to use force to stop them or face world embarrassment.

This action and counter-action, which might mean war, would be the lethal solution.

Khrushchev, since he's talked so long and so much about getting Berlin out of his hair, must eventually take some action or appear to have backed down under Allied resistance.

Yet, if the Allies let the Russians and East Germans shut them off from West Berlin, their allies everywhere certainly would lose faith in them.

Cold War Benefit

By Joel Seldin

African Students In U.S. Find Friends

Students having trouble finding summer jobs this year will have no problem if they can get themselves caught in the middle in the cold war. The maxim is illustrated by a sudden rash of efforts to find summer jobs for African exchange students.

The latest was reported last Wednesday by the AFL-CIO, which said it will encourage its member unions and central bodies not only to find jobs for African students, but will underwrite up to half the cost if the unions take African students on for the summer as staff members.

Last week, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg assigned Donald Beatty, of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, to work full time on finding summer jobs for foreign students, with emphasis on the problems of the Africans.

A number of foundations are trying to help the Africans, including the Afro-American Student Foundation, The National Student Christian Federation, and the African American Institute.

LIKE MILLIONS of other students in this country, the Africans find it necessary to earn money during the summer to pay for room, board and other necessities when they return to school next fall.

Frank Montero, of the Afro-American Student Foundation, estimates there are 1,800 African students in the United States, of whom about 900 are in need of summer jobs. Like most other students, the Africans are having a hard time because of the scarcity of jobs this year.

The Africans do have special problems. Most of them are Negroes and are caught up in this country's difficulties with racial discrimination in employment.

Those about to spend their first summer here are also unfamiliar with resources for job counseling and job placements. But a good deal of the effort being made on the Africans' behalf stems, in part, from the position of their home countries in the East-West rivalry for the allegiance of the new African republics.

THE AFL-CIO program is a case in point. The labor federation, with the government's encouragement, has been courting African labor leaders for some time.

It has contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars for African labor in various ways, but mostly through the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, which has affiliates in 22 African countries.

The federation's president, George Meany, expressed concern over the job troubles of African students as far back as April.

In a letter to international unions and central labor bodies, he reaffirmed the AFL-CIO's opposition to colonialism and stressed the importance for Africa of a strong labor movement. He urged the unions to find summer jobs in private industry for African exchange students.

Last week, there was disturbing news for the AFL-CIO from Africa. Representatives of 32 countries met at Casablanca and set up the All-African Trade Union Federation. Through the prodding of delegates from Ghana and Guinea, it was decided that AATUF members must sever all ties with other labor federations.

ON ITS FACE, the resolution was neutral because it barred affiliation not only with Free World federations but also with the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

Actually, the WFTU has few members in Africa and stands to lose little. Western leaders fear the "neutralism" involved in the Africans' decision has a strong pro-Russian tinge.

A few days ago, on his own initiative, Mr. Meany decided that helping students to find summer jobs in private industry would not solve the problem. He drafted the plan for underwriting up to half the cost if unions will employ the Africans, and is now sending out letters outlining the proposal to various union leaders, a spokesman for the federation said.

The spokesman could not estimate the cost of the new program because it is not yet known how many unions will ask for the reimbursement, or how many will employ African students.

Mr. Meany did not link directly the news from Africa with the new job program, but he has been concerned for some time with the signs of anti-Western feeling among some African labor leaders. Though the developments in Africa may not have triggered the new program, neither did they diminish the odds that the Africans will stand a better chance than most students of finding summer jobs this year.

Letters To The Editor

I see where Hancock County is in the news again. A murder has been committed in Trumbull County, Ohio, and the editor of The Review is trying to make Hancock County his whipping boy.

I live in Hancock County and I like it fine. I will admit that it is not a perfect county. Everyone knows that Columbiana County is the only perfect county in the world. East Liverpool is the only perfect city in the world. And I would like to add that you are the only perfect editor in the world, but to do so would leave me open to a great many slander suits from other editors and ridicule from my friends.

But let's get back to Hancock County. I will admit that the officers in Hancock County are lax in performing their duties. These are some of the duties they do not perform: No. 1—Officers will not, without their superior officer's permission, borrow a TV set from the police station so a "friend" can watch Highway Patrol or Capt. Kangaroo; No. 2—Officers are forbidden to play footsie with anybody's wife or girl friend; insurance companies have canceled policies for less than this; No. 3—Officers should not become so fond of department stores and supermarkets that they can't wait until opening time to enter, but must enter at night so great is their haste to fondle the merchandise and goodies. There are a great many other duties that the officers of Hancock County do not perform, but we won't trade ours for yours.

How Old's Time?

"How old is time? Probably older than one thinks. Modern geochronology, the science of telling time by nature's built-in clocks, is constantly pushing the history of the stars, the world and man deeper into the past.

Less than four centuries have passed since Archbishop Ussher assigned the date of creation as 4004 B.C., the National Geographic Society recalls. The Irish Biblical chronologist was much more conservative, however, than the ancient Chaldeans. They allowed 473,000 years for the age of man and two million for the universe.

In recent years, scientists have been able to make more precise guesses about the origin of things through new techniques of studying the composition of stars, meteorites, earth's rocks, fossils, sediments, ancient wood, prehistoric skeletons and tools. A prime technique is the measurement of radioactivity in certain elements.

The universe's birthday moved backward sharply in 1955 when astronomers of three observatories in California — Palomar, Mount Wilson, and Lick—reported a probable age of about 5.4 billion years.

Current estimates suggest that the universe is from 10 to 13 billion years old. A cluster of distant galaxies seems to be about 25 billion years old.

The earth's beginning is now dated by science as being between 3½ and 4½ billion years, though the rocks and minerals in its crust are somewhat younger. The oceans are believed to be less than 600 million years old.

Man In Check Charges Due For Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Paul Phillips Jr. of Canfield R. D. 3, accused of giving a fraudulent check for $150 to the Central Service auto agency on March 23.

The judge ordered a continuance after Phillips requested time to obtain counsel when taken before the court this morning on a warrant served Wednesday night.

The charge against Phillips was filed by Jack W. Young, Central Service sales manager. It alleges Phillips gave the agency the $150 check, drawn on the Boardman office of the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown, "well knowing he did not have sufficient credit or funds with said bank. . ."

Judge Chertoff set Phillips' bond at $1,000. He explained to the defendant that the charge is a felony that could lead to a fine of $50 to $200 and imprisonment for one to three years.

"When I wrote that check, it was good," Phillips replied. "If Mr. Young had given me a square deal, it would have been good."

However, Phillips did not enter a formal plea. Judge Chertoff said that will be done after he obtains counsel.

Also attached to the affidavit was another check for $15 issued to Chans' Gulf Service in East End April 1 and bearing Phillips' signature. Attached was a slip showing it was returned from the same bank for insufficient funds.

Police said the warrant was served on Phillips at 9:40 p. m. Wednesday by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman K. H. Mooney.

Woman Leaves $182,362 Estate

The estate of a late Newell woman has been appraised at $182,362.75, according to a report filed in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Eula Mae McIntyre Pittenger, 70, who died April 11, bequeathed her entire estate to her two sons and her residence at 6th and Washington Sts. to her husband, John Guy Pittenger, rent free during his lifetime unless he re-marries.

The appraisal was made by the Rev. Allen S. Fields and Harry C. Scott of New Cumberland, and Frank N. Richmond of Chester.

It includes real estate valued at $24,300; tangible personal property, $2,133; government bonds and securities of all kinds, $45,829.21; shares of corporate stock of all kinds, $98,020.30, and money and certificates of deposit, notes and accounts, $12,350.41.

The will, signed July 22, 1942, by the late Mrs. Pittenger, instructed "immediate and equal distribution of stocks, bonds and money."

The securities and money were to be divided equally between her sons, James Guy Pittenger, 39, of Dearborn, Mich., and Dr. John Thomas Pittenger, 43, of Newell.

The will stipulates that the homestead be turned over to the sons if her husband remarries.

Flea Beetle Damage Seen For Field Corn

LISBON — Several Ohio counties have reported flea beetle damage in field corn, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

Billie D. Blair, extension entomologist at Ohio State University, said the flea beetles feed on the corn leaves leaving small holes. It is expected the beetle population will be larger than normal and since corn plants are smaller than usual there may be excessive damage.

DDT may be applied on corn that will not be fed or ensiled. Dieldrin may be used if not fed within 60 days. These insecticides control the flea beetle on the corn, according to Lower.

Ex-Palestine World War I Pilot To Attend Pioneer Fete

EAST PALESTINE — A former East Palestine man, who flew as a French fighter pilot in World War I, is among 40 Ohio pilots of the 1914-18 conflict who plan to attend the first reunion of the aerial pioneers at Dayton June 24-28.

Charles Herbert Veil of Los Angeles, about 65, has indicated he will be at the gathering at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base.

Veil, who left East Palestine about 50 years ago, resides in California with his mother, 93. His father was an employe of the former McGraw Tire & Rubber Co., and Veil attended East Palestine High School for a year.

He was a student at Brown University when 100 American college students were selected to train for French aviation in the war, prior to America's entry, and he was one of the seven who qualified.

Veil had to become a French citizen, and he went into action as a sergeant in April 1916. After shooting down his fifth plane, he was promoted to lieutenant and was an "ace" with the Lafayette Corps.

Veil received many high French awards and later served as an officer in the U. S. Air Service in the war. He married a French girl.

His family lived in a N. Market St. home during their residence here in 1910-11.

Injuries Claim Girl

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Gloria Troutman, 3, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Troutman, died Wednesday, of injuries received when struck by a car. It was driven, police said, by Donald Ray Clark, 23. He was arrested, charged with driving while under license revocation.

Former Newark Man Convicted In Wife Murder

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Byron Baldwin Ashbrook, member of a prominent Ohio family, was convicted of first - degree murder Wednesday night for the Christmas eve strangulation of his wife.

A jury of eight men and four women deliberated 3 hours, 22 minutes before returning the verdict. They recommended life imprisonment with possibility of parole after seven years.

Ashbrook, 39, former Newark, Ohio, businessman, waived a delay in sentencing and stood stiffly while District Judge George Marshall formally sentenced him to state prison. The only emotion he showed was a rapid blinking of his eyes.

Defense attorneys said they do not plan appeal.

Ashbrook admitted strangling the former Jane Puffer, 36, but said he did it when he "went blank" in a fit of passion. His wife had informed him that she intended to become a prostitute, he said.

His defense attorney had asked no more than a voluntary manslaughter conviction. The prosecution had demanded the death penalty.

Total auto registrations for 1960 came to 6,576,650, over half a million more than 1959.

Man In Check Charges Due For Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Paul Phillips Jr. of Canfield R. D. 3, accused of giving a fraudulent check for $150 to the Central Service auto agency on March 23.

The judge ordered a continuance after Phillips requested time to obtain counsel when taken before the court this morning on a warrant served Wednesday night.

The charge against Phillips was filed by Jack W. Young, Central Service sales manager. It alleges Phillips gave the agency the $150 check, drawn on the Boardman office of the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown, "well knowing he did not have sufficient credit or funds with said bank. . ."

Judge Chertoff set Phillips' bond at $1,000. He explained to the defendant that the charge is a felony that could lead to a fine of $50 to $200 and imprisonment for one to three years.

"When I wrote that check, it was good," Phillips replied. "If Mr. Young had given me a square deal, it would have been good."

However, Phillips did not enter a formal plea. Judge Chertoff said that will be done after he obtains counsel.

Also attached to the affidavit was another check for $15 issued to Chans' Gulf Service in East End April 1 and bearing Phillips' signature. Attached was a slip showing it was returned from the same bank for insufficient funds.

Police said the warrant was served on Phillips at 9:40 p. m. Wednesday by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman K. H. Mooney.

Woman Leaves $182,362 Estate

The estate of a late Newell woman has been appraised at $182,362.75, according to a report filed in the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Eula Mae McIntyre Pittenger, 70, who died April 11, bequeathed her entire estate to her two sons and her residence at 6th and Washington Sts. to her husband, John Guy Pittenger, rent free during his lifetime unless he re-marries.

The appraisal was made by the Rev. Allen S. Fields and Harry C. Scott of New Cumberland, and Frank N. Richmond of Chester.

It includes real estate valued at $24,300; tangible personal property, $2,133; government bonds and securities of all kinds, $45,829.21; shares of corporate stock of all kinds, $98,020.30, and money and certificates of deposit, notes and accounts, $12,350.41.

The will, signed July 22, 1942, by the late Mrs. Pittenger, instructed "immediate and equal distribution of stocks, bonds and money."

The securities and money were to be divided equally between her sons, James Guy Pittenger, 39, of Dearborn, Mich., and Dr. John Thomas Pittenger, 43, of Newell.

The will stipulates that the homestead be turned over to the sons if her husband remarries.

Flea Beetle Damage Seen For Field Corn

LISBON — Several Ohio counties have reported flea beetle damage in field corn, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

Billie D. Blair, extension entomologist at Ohio State University, said the flea beetles feed on the corn leaves leaving small holes. It is expected the beetle population will be larger than normal and since corn plants are smaller than usual there may be excessive damage.

DDT may be applied on corn that will not be fed or ensiled. Dieldrin may be used if not fed within 60 days. These insecticides control the flea beetle on the corn, according to Lower.

Ex-Palestine World War I Pilot To Attend Pioneer Fete

EAST PALESTINE — A former East Palestine man, who flew as a French fighter pilot in World War I, is among 40 Ohio pilots of the 1914-18 conflict who plan to attend the first reunion of the aerial pioneers at Dayton June 24-28.

Charles Herbert Veil of Los Angeles, about 65, has indicated he will be at the gathering at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base.

Veil, who left East Palestine about 50 years ago, resides in California with his mother, 93. His father was an employe of the former McGraw Tire & Rubber Co., and Veil attended East Palestine High School for a year.

He was a student at Brown University when 100 American college students were selected to train for French aviation in the war, prior to America's entry, and he was one of the seven who qualified.

Veil had to become a French citizen, and he went into action as a sergeant in April 1916. After shooting down his fifth plane, he was promoted to lieutenant and was an "ace" with the Lafayette Corps.

Veil received many high French awards and later served as an officer in the U. S. Air Service in the war. He married a French girl.

His family lived in a N. Market St. home during their residence here in 1910-11.

Former Newark Man Convicted In Wife Murder

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Byron Baldwin Ashbrook, member of a prominent Ohio family, was convicted of first - degree murder Wednesday night for the Christmas eve strangulation of his wife.

A jury of eight men and four women deliberated 3 hours, 22 minutes before returning the verdict. They recommended life imprisonment with possibility of parole after seven years.

Ashbrook, 39, former Newark, Ohio, businessman, waived a delay in sentencing and stood stiffly while District Judge George Marshall formally sentenced him to state prison. The only emotion he showed was a rapid blinking of his eyes.

Defense attorneys said they do not plan appeal.

Ashbrook admitted strangling the former Jane Puffer, 36, but said he did it when he "went blank" in a fit of passion. His wife had informed him that she intended to become a prostitute, he said.

His defense attorney had asked no more than a voluntary manslaughter conviction. The prosecution had demanded the death penalty.

Total auto registrations for 1960 came to 6,576,650, over half a million more than 1959.

after introduction. They now go to the Senate.

The most noteworth of the House-passed bills would un-muddle a situation arising from the redistricting act passed by the regular session last winter.

In line with the state's impending loss of one of its six seats in the U.S. House of Representatives, the act realigned the state's 55 counties into five congressional districts instead of six. It took effect June 9.

But Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson later held that six members of four state boards and commission no longer would be eligible to hold office after the act took effect. This was because the boards and commissions have memberships set up by law on a congressional district basis.

Those affected by the Robertson opinion included Perce J. Ross of Buckhannon, State Board of Education; William G. Thompson of Montgomery, West Virginia University Board of Governors; Phill A. McDaniel of Beckley and William Jarrett of Charleston, State Board of Health, and Louis E. Petitto of Clarksburg and W. H. Hanks of Charleston, Advisory Board to the State Road Commission.

The bill which the House passed 97-0 yesterday says simply that the redistricting act shall not affect the tenure of any person appointed to a state board prior to the act's effective date.

The 65-62 vote in the House was five short of passing a Senate-approved bill exempting nonprofit hospitals from liability for ordinary negligence of employes. It still would have allowed individual employes to be sued, however.

Headed for what appears to be a receptive Senate is a bill passed Wednesday by the House, 124-3, granting sales tax exemption in purchase of prescription medicines, wheel chairs, artificial limbs and the like.

A person deliberately misusing a credit card to fraudulently acquire goods or services worth more than $60 could face up to seven years in prison under terms of a bill okayed 118-0 by the House. The Senate already had approved the measure, which sets a $300 fine and 90 days in jail as top penalties where less than $60 is involved.

The Senate wound up legislative action by lopsided votes, on bills approved by the House which would:

Cut the workweek from 44 or more hours to 40 hours for guards at Ohio's adult and juvenile prisons.

Permit adjacent counties, or a single county, to form a regional airport authority. There is considerable interest in southwest Ohio in a regional airport.

Increase the top fine for being a highway litterbug, now $50, to $500, with a $25 minimum.

Ex-Ohioan Released In Murder-Theft Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A former Ohioan, chased across two states by police on a 35-year-old charge of murder and highway robbery at Mount Vernon, Ohio, has been released. Dwight Hess Cherry, 61, had been arrested here Tuesday night on request of Watseka, Ill., authorities who said they released Cherry there before the FBI said he was wanted in Ohio.

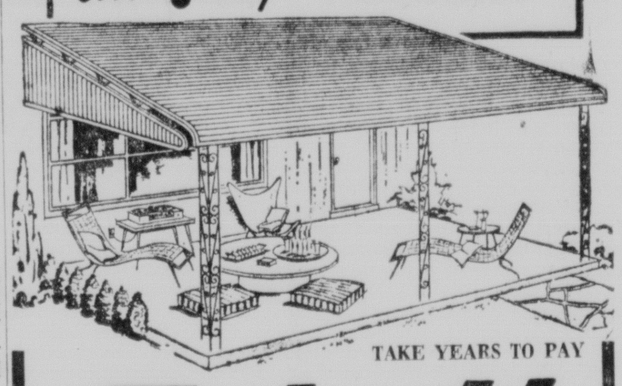

Sheriff Paul Cochran of Knox County, Ohio, where the crimes were alleged to have occurred, said Cherry was indicted in the 1920s but the case never went to trial and he was released. Cochran said he has asked the FBI to withdraw the fugitive warrant, so Indianpolis police released Cherry.

for up to 36 hours if the institution accepted the donation.

The 65-62 vote in the House was five short of passing a Senate-approved bill exempting nonprofit hospitals from liability for ordinary negligence of employes. It still would have allowed individual employes to be sued, however.

Headed for what appears to be a receptive Senate is a bill passed Wednesday by the House, 124-3, granting sales tax exemption in purchase of prescription medicines, wheel chairs, artificial limbs and the like.

A person deliberately misusing a credit card to fraudulently acquire goods or services worth more than $60 could face up to seven years in prison under terms of a bill okayed 118-0 by the House. The Senate already had approved the measure, which sets a $300 fine and 90 days in jail as top penalties where less than $60 is involved.

The Senate wound up legislative action by lopsided votes, on bills approved by the House which would:

Cut the workweek from 44 or more hours to 40 hours for guards at Ohio's adult and juvenile prisons.

Permit adjacent counties, or a single county, to form a regional airport authority. There is considerable interest in southwest Ohio in a regional airport.

Increase the top fine for being a highway litterbug, now $50, to $500, with a $25 minimum.

Youth, 16 Drowns In Piggy-Back Ride

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A piggy-back trip across a small pond, on U.S. Air Force property behind the Clinton County Infirmary, cost the life of 16-year-old Ricky Frazier.

Ricky was riding through the water Wednesday on the back of John Reedy, 14. Reedy stumbled but swam to shore. When he looked back, he told investigators, there was no sign of young Frazier, whose body was found by skin divers.

Ex-Ohioan Released In Murder-Theft Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A former Ohioan, chased across two states by police on a 35-year-old charge of murder and highway robbery at Mount Vernon, Ohio, has been released. Dwight Hess Cherry, 61, had been arrested here Tuesday night on request of Watseka, Ill., authorities who said they released Cherry there before the FBI said he was wanted in Ohio.

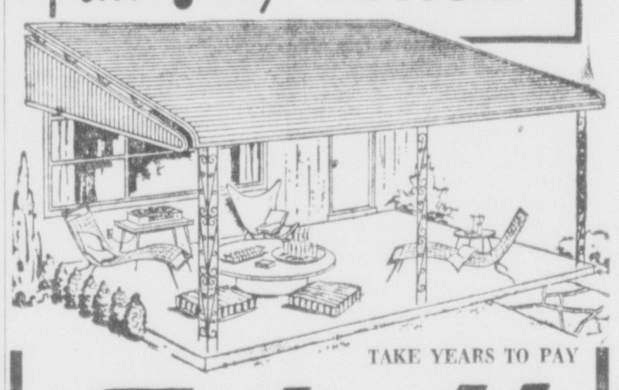

Sheriff Paul Cochran of Knox County, Ohio, where the crimes were alleged to have occurred, said Cherry was indicted in the 1920s but the case never went to trial and he was released. Cochran said he has asked the FBI to withdraw the fugitive warrant, so Indianpolis police released Cherry.

2 Methods For Villages

New Law Complicates Split-Term Council Vote

One new law stacked atop another by the State Legislature means that villages in Columbiana County will follow two methods in electing Council members for four-year and two-year terms in November, Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said today.

It boils down to the fact that Leetonia Council candidates' names will appear on the ballot specifically designated as aspirants for four-year and two-year terms. But in all other villages the candidates will be grouped together without any mention of the long or short term.

The four who win the highest number of votes will assume four-year terms and the two who trail in the six-man race will take two-year terms.

Of the so-called larger villages—those with over 2,000 population—the law affects Lisbon and Columbiana. Their Council candidates will run without term designations. And O'Hanlon said it probably also will apply in the so-called small villages — those under 2,000 population — Salineville, Rogers, New Waterford, Summitville, Washingtonville and Hanoverton.

The newest law, effective June 8, says that village Council candidates who were nominated in the primaries for four-year or two-year terms will be listed on the ballot this fall with the term designations. In all other communities, including those in which candidates automatically received certificates of nomination under the "no contest" law, the term designations will not be used in the general election.

Since Leetonia was the only village to hold a primary, it is the only community in which the Council term designations will be used on the fall ballot. Lisbon and Columbiana normally would hold primaries, but they skipped the voting in May because three was no contest for any office.

Primaries are not held in the villages under 2,000 population. Their candidates file nominating petitions anytime up until Aug. 9 and their names are listed on the ballot without party designations. Salineville was added to the list of small villages when its population fell under 2,000 in the 1960 census.

First the legislature enacted the law about the four-year and two-year village Council terms, making it effective for the first time in 1961. Then the current session passed the latest law.

Previously, all village councilmen were elected for two-year terms. Cities still pick councilmen for two-year terms.

The Election Board received the data on the new law in a letter Wednesday from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Here's the clause that affects the village elections:

"Except in villages where a primary election was held in 1961 for the nomination of candidates for member of the legislative authority, the four candidates receiving the greatest number of votes cast at the municipal election shall be elected for terms of four years and the two candidates who receive the next greatest number of votes cast shall be elected for a term of two years.

"Names of all candidates nominated, except in the primary election, will be grouped together on the ballot regardless of the term designation on their nominating petition or declaration of candidacy.

"In villages where a primary election was held in May, the persons nominated for four-and two-year terms for Council will remain candidates for these specific terms in November, the names grouped on the ballot in four-and two-year term groups.

"Candidates who won certificates of nomination because of the elimination of a primary because of the absence of a contest are subject to the general grouping of names where the highest votes determine the terms of election."

Hot Baths

Q. Would daily hot baths cause a man to become sterile?

A. Sensitivity of the male sex glands to heat probably varies. For some men, prolonged hot baths might lead to some loss in reproductive capacity. Others might not be affected. Men whose fertility characteristics are borderline should perhaps avoid prolonged overly-hot baths.

Pregnancy Possibilities

Q. Is it possible for the nursing mother to become pregnant?

A. As a general rule, no. Ovarian activity is largely suppressed during the nursing period. The suppression can not, of course, last indefinitely so that the possibility of becoming pregnant increases as the nursing period wanes and the baby is weaned.

Contact Dermatitis

Q. What is contact dermatitis?

A. Contact dermatitis is an eruption on the skin or mucous membranes resulting from exposure to certain substances called allergens (contactants). Avoidance of contact with the offending substance will almost always clear up the skin trouble. But the skin "remembers" the allergen and if exposure occurs later, even years later, the skin condition will again flare up.

Epsom Salts Soaks

Q. What is the logic of soaking a swollen injury in Epsom salts solution?

A. When an injury occurs, fluid seeps into the damaged tissue, causing edema or swelling. Because fluid flows from areas of lesser to greater concentration, the relatively strong Epsom salts solution is said to "draw out" the excess tissue fluid and reduce the swelling. This, at least, is one explanation.

Hot Baths

Q. Would daily hot baths cause a man to become sterile?

A. Sensitivity of the male sex glands to heat probably varies. For some men, prolonged hot baths might lead to some loss in reproductive capacity. Others might not be affected. Men whose fertility characteristics are borderline should perhaps avoid prolonged overly-hot baths.

Pregnancy Possibilities

Q. Is it possible for the nursing mother to become pregnant?

A. As a general rule, no. Ovarian activity is largely suppressed during the nursing period. The suppression can not, of course, last indefinitely so that the possibility of becoming pregnant increases as the nursing period wanes and the baby is weaned.

Contact Dermatitis

Q. What is contact dermatitis?

A. Contact dermatitis is an eruption on the skin or mucous membranes resulting from exposure to certain substances called allergens (contactants). Avoidance of contact with the offending substance will almost always clear up the skin trouble. But the skin "remembers" the allergen and if exposure occurs later, even years later, the skin condition will again flare up.

Epsom Salts Soaks

Q. What is the logic of soaking a swollen injury in Epsom salts solution?

A. When an injury occurs, fluid seeps into the damaged tissue, causing edema or swelling. Because fluid flows from areas of lesser to greater concentration, the relatively strong Epsom salts solution is said to "draw out" the excess tissue fluid and reduce the swelling. This, at least, is one explanation.

Ruritans Honor 'Woman Of Year'

Mrs. Marion P. Thompson was honored as "The Woman of the Year" by the Glenmoor Ruritan Club at its Ladies Night program Wednesday at the Calcutta fire station.

County Recorder Richard Brian, president, left, is shown presenting Mrs. Thompson with a solid gold charm bracelet. At right is James Baxter of Salem, Ohio district governor of Ruritans. The bracelet is engraved: "To Mrs. Marion P. Thompson for outstanding services to the community." Brian said the award will be made annually.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to East Liverpool district women who served as community chairmen in the annual Mothers March on Polio. They included: Mrs. Dorothy Crooks, Mrs. Betty Anderson, Mrs. Jean Snow and Mrs. Mossie Martin, all of East Liverpool; Mrs. Floreine Broderick and Mrs. Pat Beatty of Wellsville and Mrs. Kathryn Mundy of Salineville.

Brian handed the certificates to Mrs. Thompson, who made the presentations. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Allan McKeever. McKeever is chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation, which sponsors the annual March of Dimes. Brian was southern county chairman of the campaign.

Baxter presented Brian with a sterling silver key chain "for outstanding service to the Ruritan Clubs of the area." Baxter granted permission to change the club's name to Calcutta-East Liverpool Area Ruritan Club, naming the two communities from which most of its membership is drawn.

James A. Locke, East Liverpool jeweler, presented a talk on gems and displayed stones. Selections were presented by a quartet of the Sweet Adelines Chapter comprised of Mrs. Marjorie Stover, Miss JoAnn Vannoy, Mrs. Madalyn Mack and Mrs. Edith Alexander.

The club received a letter of thanks from an Oakmont family for a wheelchair while it purchased for their 2-year-old daughter, crippled from the hips down. The club announced purchase of a pair of specially-built shoes for an East End boy who is crippled.

Sixty attended. Mrs. Pat Steele and Mrs. Richard Brian were in charge of floral arrangements on the tables. Plans were made to attend a play at the Packard Playhouse in Warren in the next three weeks.

The July meeting will be a picnic at the rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Appleby.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a very unhappy girl who will be 16 in September. I've always been grownup for my age and I started to date when I was 12. I guess you'd call me popular because I have always had more dates than I could accept.

(Some nights I go out with one fellow from 7 to 10 p.m. and another one from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.).

I'm beginning to worry about my reputation. It seems that the very first time I go out with a guy he tries to paw me. I have necked with a few fellows, I'll admit, but I am not interested in making friends through the Braille system with the whole school.

Please tell me how I can protect my reputation. — POPULAR BUT DECENT.

Dear P but D: One way you can protect your reputation is to cut out the second shift. A girl who has to stagger the traffic suggests that she needs more company than sounds respectable.

No doubt a few of the fellows you have necked with have been performing as publicity agents. Try a new approach — hands off, one and all. And don't go out with every fellow who asks for a date. If you're selective it will do wonders for your reputation.

A Son's Wish

Dear Ann: I need some advice but nobody will give me an unprejudiced opinion because everybody I know has personal feelings about this matter.

I married young and had a baby boy the first year. My husband died shortly after the baby was born and I remained a widow for three years.

Now I am married to a very nice man and we have three children of our own. The oldest boy keeps begging me to change his last name so it will be the same as his father's and his brothers'.

I want to do it but my first husband's parents are raising violent objections. They say I owe it to the memory of their son to keep his name alive through this boy.

Please tell me what to do. I am going crazy trying to decide what is right. — GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

-:-

Dear Guilty: If the boy wants to change his name so it will be the same as the only daddy he has ever known, I say change it.

You can use your first husband's name as the boy's middle name. Then, for example, you can call him Robert Allison Brown.

Twice As Strong

Dear Ann: Please print this for "Life Is Lousy" and "World Destroyed."

A few days ago I had a quick lunch at a restaurant where my husband and I frequently have dinner. The waitress said, "Would you mind if I told you something? It makes us all feel so good when you and your husband come in. You are so in love with each other."

I went back to my office, closed the door and bawled for about 10 minutes. Then I thanked God for my blessings.

We are both in our 50s now. My husband is one of those big handsome lugs and women can't keep their hands off him. About 20 years ago he became involved and it lasted almost seven years.

I decided to weather the storm --and I did. No self-pity, no accusations, no tears, no recriminations and no running to relatives.

It's rough but it's worth it. They say a piece of steel that breaks and is welded is twice as strong —and it's true.—HAPPY NOW.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Everything Okay 'Cross Street'

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — What do you do when you are 4 years old and get locked inside the wrong house, alone?

Tommy Koontz knew the answer to that one when he wandered into a neighbor's house looking for playmates, then found the door locked behind him. He picked up the telephone and dialed O for operator.

He told the operator he was locked in, but when the operator tried to find out where, communications broke down. The operator thought Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Koontz, was saying, "Cross Street."

What he was saying, naturally, was, "across the street."

Police went from house to house up and down Cross Street, in unsuccessful search.

When Tommy's mother and the neighbor found the boy about an hour later, the telephone was still off the hook, and Mrs. Koontz explained to the operator that everything was okay "cross the street."

Parents May Know About Laggard

In some school systems practically every child in the elementary grades is promoted. This procedure assumes that no child should be subjected to the humiliation and discouragement of "failure". Consequently he escapes the usual torture of shame and punishment at home. In deed, many parents like this scheme, especially in the lower grades, supposing it saves them from worries. Many teachers also like it, as it frees them from parental pressures. But it does not alter the fact that some children don't achieve in school work up to an objective standard or that they won't be ready by and by to attain standards which are set in higher grades or high school. It just kids the child and his parents along, often giving them a false sense of security.

Dr. Garry Meyers

PROMOTING ALL children may work well when the teacher of the next higher grade sets each child to learn only what he is ready and able to learn. But this ideal condition rarely exists. Instead, the child, failing to achieve any standard for the grade, usually just lags more in the next higher grade.

Whatever the plan of your school, you as the child's parent need to learn how well he is doing at his grade level. Whether he is promoted or not may not give you this information. You want to know how well he is achieving in terms of what is taught in his grade. You know that his progress there pretty much foretells what he is likely to achieve next year and the next.

Your child may be sailing along through the early grades without a word from the school that he is lagging. Even if you feel some doubts about his progress, you may be told not to worry. Then by the time he is in the fifth or sixth grade you may discover he is not only lagging but lagging to a very serious degree.

IN MOST CASES this child may be a very poor reader. Perhaps he can hardly read at second, third or fourth grade level. Unless he can be helped to become a pretty good reader, he may only lag more and more in each successive grade and his chances of entering college will be pretty small.

Wishing to give or find help for your child this summer, look first into how well he reads. In no other direction may so much be done to help him. Even if he's a good reader, his reading more and more will add to his future school success.

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Boys Find Treasure Chest While Playing

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A group of boys playing near the Mississippi River bank retrieved a small chest floating on the water and threw it on to the bank.

The impact split the box open and a stream of silver coins spilled out—touching off a stream of treasure-seekers armed with picks and shovels to the spot on banks at Natchez Under the Hill.

The youngsters sold most of the spilled coins—mostly silver dimes and half-dimes dating from 1848-1860. Collectors could not estimate their total value or collector's worth.

Parents Should Curb 'Candy Discipline'

The observant remark of a kindergarten teacher gives a significant clue to the chubby child's growing weight problem. "When a youngster balks at going to school, I've often seen mothers shove a candy bar into their hands and scoot them in the door. These children are the fat ones," she added.

Ida Jean Kain

Sweets should not be used as a bribe or given to children to shut them up. Today we have food in abundance, such good food all the year around, that the coin of under - nutrition has now been reversed and we have over-nutrition.

Today's loving mother is the one who teaches her children good food habits and sees to it that they do not practice overeating.

PREVENTION OF overweight is the most helpful solution of our current weight dilemma. The way is through proper eating and exercise habits starting in childhood. Here's an example:

"Using the same protective menus that helped my husband reduce, I saw to it that each child had a serving of lean meat, vegetables, and salad. In addition, the children are given milk, bread and butter, and a custard-type pudding, without whipped cream.

"When we go to the grocery store I buy each child a banana or other fruit instead of cookies or candy. Result — I have five healthy dynamos. They are alert, have perfect teeth, glossy hair, lovely complexions, and boundless energy. They are all in the correct weight bracket for their height and bony structure."

To reduce overweight children, the positive approach emphasizing the foods the child can have rather than those that are "too fattening" brings the best results. This was revealed in a report by nutritionists working with a group of overweight youngsters.

The word, "diet," was never used. Rather the discussion was centered on a food plan. What the children could have was emphasized. For many the food plan was a game, fun, a challenge. It was pointed out that where the plan was regarded as punishment or deprivation the results often were failures.

VARIETY, CHOICE, and substitutions were emphasized in the food plan. Treats were given but food was never used as a bribe. The idea of the treat is good for it allows the overweight child to be part of the group.

It was found that the minimum age for child-cooperation in reducing was between 9 and 10. For younger children, it's all up to the parents.

Other studies have shown that overweight youngsters are extraordinarily inactive. These youngsters invariably choose sedentary activities.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper.

7th Stop On 18-Day Tour

Adlai Carries Kennedy's Progress Plan To Bolivia

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)— Adlai E. Stevenson carries President Kennedy's alliance for progress plan today to Bolivia, a nation troubled by the ills the program is designed to cure.

Stevenson, touring Latin America as Kennedy's personal representative, has been watching the situation in Bolivia for the past week. Observers believe President Victor Paz Estenssoro is in the midst of the last crisis for his administration. That if he survives his hold will be secure. He imposed a state of siege last week and accused the Communists of plotting to overthrow him. But Bolivia is poor, and much of the trouble has been laid to unrest among workers.

Despite the question mark hanging over the Bolivian regime, Stevenson decided to visit La Paz to discuss plans for the meeting in Uruguay next month of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, at which Kennedy hopes to secure adoption of his plan to improve the lot of the Latin-American people.

Bolivia is the seventh country on Stevenson's 18-day tour. He will also visit Peru, Ecuador and Colombia before returning to Washington next Thursday.

The traveling ambassador told a news conference in Santiago Wednesday night his tour so far had been successful. He said he found Kennedy's program "had the effect of restoring confidence in the United States."

He added that he was especially heartened by his talks in Chile with President Jorge Alessandri and other officials.

The envoy took note of leftist anti - U.S. demonstrators who broke windows in the U.S. Information Agency offices in Santiago Tuesday night.

"The treatment of the USIA is certainly different from that given to me and my party," he said.

Fishing Worms Sold On The Honor System

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A. C. Gandy sells fishing worms on the honor system.

He leaves boxes of worms on an outdoor table for the customers to serve themselves day or night and says the money is never short. Sometimes, he adds, it comes out a little extra.

"I'd just as soon do business with fishermen as anybody," he explained.

"You can trust every one of them—when it comes to bait."

7th Stop On 18-Day Tour

Adlai Carries Kennedy's Progress Plan To Bolivia

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)— Adlai E. Stevenson carries President Kennedy's alliance for progress plan today to Bolivia, a nation troubled by the ills the program is designed to cure.

Stevenson, touring Latin America as Kennedy's personal representative, has been watching the situation in Bolivia for the past week. Observers believe President Victor Paz Estenssoro is in the midst of the last crisis for his administration. That if he survives his hold will be secure. He imposed a state of siege last week and accused the Communists of plotting to overthrow him. But Bolivia is poor, and much of the trouble has been laid to unrest among workers.

Despite the question mark hanging over the Bolivian regime, Stevenson decided to visit La Paz to discuss plans for the meeting in Uruguay next month of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, at which Kennedy hopes to secure adoption of his plan to improve the lot of the Latin-American people.

Bolivia is the seventh country on Stevenson's 18-day tour. He will also visit Peru, Ecuador and Colombia before returning to Washington next Thursday.

The traveling ambassador told a news conference in Santiago Wednesday night his tour so far had been successful. He said he found Kennedy's program "had the effect of restoring confidence in the United States."

He added that he was especially heartened by his talks in Chile with President Jorge Alessandri and other officials.

The envoy took note of leftist anti - U.S. demonstrators who broke windows in the U.S. Information Agency offices in Santiago Tuesday night.

"The treatment of the USIA is certainly different from that given to me and my party," he said.

Stuart Has Big Night As Bucs Knock Cincy Out Of National League Lead

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sun is shining on the Pittsburgh Pirates from all sorts of directions.

Some examples:

1—The Bucs have beaten Cincinnati twice in a row and knocked the Reds out of the National League lead.

2—Pittsburgh has come up with some of that ninth-inning charm that was such a big factor last year.

3—Dick Stuart is belting the ball.

4—It appears Vernon Law may be back in shape soon.

Pittsburgh came from behind to edge the Reds 5-4 Wednesday night at Forbes Field on a two-run triple by Stuart in the last of the ninth.

The defeat pushed Cincinnati back into second place as Los Angeles bombed Chicago 7-0 and took over the top spot. The victory left the Pirates in fourth, three games off the pace.

Stuart had a hot night, driving in four runs on a homer, his sixth of the year, a single and the triple.

Pittsburgh took a 2-0 lead in the first on a leadoff triple by Billy Virdon, a wild pitch by Jim O'Toole, scoring Virdon, and Stuart's home run over the left field wall.

The Reds bounced back in the third to tie the game on a pair of hits and an error by Bill Mazeroski.

Cincinnati scored a run in the sixth and Pittsburgh tied it again in the seventh. The Reds then pushed over another run in the eighth, setting the stage for Pittsburgh's big surge in the ninth.

Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente singled in the ninth, then came Stuart's booming triple.

Bobby Shantz, who pitched the ninth inning, picked up the victory, his third against one defeat.

As for Law, he's been given two shots to clear up his ailing shoulder. Vern feels he'll be able to pitch his next turn when Manager Danny Murtaugh gives him the nod.

A doctor said the shots will have a long range effect.

Law hurt the shoulder in April against Cincinnati.

PIRATE FIRSTBASEMAN Dick Stuart, the hero of Pittsburgh's 5-4 win over Cincinnati Wednesday, is congratulated by Don Hoak as he crosses the plate after hitting a homer in the first inning of last night's game at Pittsburgh. Stuart came up with the game winning hit in the ninth when he blasted a two-run triple. (UPI Telephoto)

Cunningham Eyes Guard Post

North Staff Not Certain Of Lineups For Saturday

Coach Dale Reichenbach of Elyria and Pete Prokop of Liberty, who are handling the North stars, are not set on a starting lineup for Saturday's encounter with the South stars.

The contest will be the first baskeball game played on the new Cuyahoga Falls High gym. Tipoff is set for 8 p. m.

East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham is one of five guards being looked over by Reichenbach. Cunningham carries a 24.2 scoring average from last season into Saturday's game.

Other cagers vying for the two guard spots are Bill Santos, 5-foot-9 of Cuyahoga Falls, Tom Rudolph 6-foot-2 of Sandusky, Claude Graves, 6-foot-1 of St. Marys, and Charles Burns 5-foot-9 of Kent Roosevelt.

The remainder of the North squad includes Jim Cox 6-foot-5 star from Toledo Macomber; Salem's Don Davidson, who was named to the first All-Ohio team; Lee Johnson of Elyria 6-foot-4 and a possible starter at center; Bob Dwors 6-foot-3 of Mayfield Heights, Jeff Gehring, 6-foot-5 of Ottawa Hills and Dave Guldin 6-foot-4 of Akron South.

Dwors is the top scorer on the team with a 29.1 average during the 1960-61 season.

Both squads have been working out each day this week at the Cuyahoga High gym.

LA Regains NL Lead By Half Game

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers are back on top in the National League race, gaining a half-game edge by beating the Chicago Cubs 7-0 Wednesday night. Pittsburgh dropped Cincinnati 5-4, and San Francisco tied the Reds for second place with an 11-2 job on Milwaukee.

The St. Louis-Philadelphia game was rained out.

The Dodgers knocked off the Cubs behind the five-hit pitching of Don Drysdale (5-3). It was his first shutout of the season. Backed by four double plays, Drysdale didn't allow a runner past first. He walked but two and struck out seven.

Drysdale also belted a homer. So did Tommy Davis, who drove in three runs. He brought in one in the first with a sacrifice fly, and the Dodgers then chased loser Don Cardwell (5-3) with three runs in the second, two unearned.

Dick Stuart did it for the Pirates. He drove in four runs with a single, triple and homer, beating the Reds with a two-run triple in the ninth off losing reliever Jim Brosnan (2-2). The Reds gained 3-2 and 4-3 leads against Bob Friend and Elroy Face before Bobby Shantz (3-1) took the decision with one hitless inning of relief.

The Giants, with a seven-run seventh inning, beat Warren Spahn (7-7), the southpaw ace who has beaten them twice. Harvey Kuenn opened the big seventh with a double and closed it with a two-run triple. Willie Mays and Ed Bailey hit home runs for the Giants, with Bailey rapping two, and each drove in three runs. Juan Marichal, beating the Braves for the second time, collected a 3-3 record with a five-hitter, giving up fifth-inning homers by Frank Thomas and Joe Torre.

Ford Gains 10th, Maris Hits 22nd; Grant Risks Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Grant lays his unblemished record on the line again tonight as the Cleveland Indians square off in the rubber game of the series against the New York Yankees.

The Mudcat, who has won seven without a loss, hasn't faced the Yankees this year and it could be his sternest test. New York also plans to start an unbeaten pitcher, Ralph Terry (4-0).

Cleveland lost to the Yankees 11-5 Wednesday night. Gary Bell suffered his sixth setback in 10 decisions.

The Indians trailed 2-1 until the sixth inning when the Yankees made it a 5-2 bulge. Little Bobby Richardson put the game virtually out of reach with a three-run homer in the seventh—his first of the year.

The loss dropped the Indians into a tie with Detroit for the American League lead. New York is only a game back.

Bell was hooked up in a duel with Whitey Ford for five innings. The two runs he allowed were produced by Roger Maris' 22nd home run of the year in the fourth inning.

But the Yankees got to Bell for three runs in the sixth, and any hopes Cleveland had of getting back into it were dashed when the Yanks got four in the seventh off Johnny Antonelli. In their own seventh the Tribe narrowed the Yankees' 9-2 lead to 9-5.

Chuck Essegian unloaded his fourth homer to cap the too-little-too-late uprising.

Ford got his 10th victory in 12 decisions to tie Frank Lary for most victories in the American League this year. He left after seven innings, but he was pleased.

"I like this pitching every four days," said the 32-year-old southpaw, who used to get five or six days between assignments under Casey Stengel. "It gives me more starts and I think I've been just as effective.

"That long seventh inning (when the Indians scored three runs) got me all stiffened up. That's why I came out."

Luis Arroyo finished up with two innings of hitless ball.

Maris, who hit a homer in a losing cause Tuesday night, isn't worried about his batting average —.234 before Wednesday night's game.

"You're most valuable to your team with the home runs and the RBI," he said. "I'm satisfield." His 50 runs batted in top the Yankees and his 22 homers top the league.

Stuart Has Big Night As Bucs Knock Cincy Out Of National League Lead

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sun is shining on the Pittsburgh Pirates from all sorts of directions.

Some examples:

1—The Bucs have beaten Cincinnati twice in a row and knocked the Reds out of the National League lead.

2—Pittsburgh has come up with some of that ninth-inning charm that was such a big factor last year.

3—Dick Stuart is belting the ball.

4—It appears Vernon Law may be back in shape soon.

Pittsburgh came from behind to edge the Reds 5-4 Wednesday night at Forbes Field on a two-run triple by Stuart in the last of the ninth.

The defeat pushed Cincinnati back into second place as Los Angeles bombed Chicago 7-0 and took over the top spot. The victory left the Pirates in fourth, three games off the pace.

Stuart had a hot night, driving in four runs on a homer, his sixth of the year, a single and the triple.

Pittsburgh took a 2-0 lead in the first on a leadoff triple by Billy Virdon, a wild pitch by Jim O'Toole, scoring Virdon, and Stuart's home run over the left field wall.

The Reds bounced back in the third to tie the game on a pair of hits and an error by Bill Mazeroski.

Cincinnati scored a run in the sixth and Pittsburgh tied it again in the seventh. The Reds then pushed over another run in the eighth, setting the stage for Pittsburgh's big surge in the ninth.

Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente singled in the ninth, then came Stuart's booming triple.

Bobby Shantz, who pitched the ninth inning, picked up the victory, his third against one defeat.

As for Law, he's been given two shots to clear up his ailing shoulder. Vern feels he'll be able to pitch his next turn when Manager Danny Murtaugh gives him the nod.

A doctor said the shots will have a long range effect.

Law hurt the shoulder in April against Cincinnati.

North Staff Not Certain Of Lineups For Saturday

Coach Dale Reichenbach of Elyria and Pete Prokop of Liberty, who are handling the North stars, are not set on a starting lineup for Saturday's encounter with the South stars.

The contest will be the first baskeball game played on the new Cuyahoga Falls High gym. Tipoff is set for 8 p. m.

East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham is one of five guards being looked over by Reichenbach. Cunningham carries a 24.2 scoring average from last season into Saturday's game.

Other cagers vying for the two guard spots are Bill Santos, 5-foot-9 of Cuyahoga Falls, Tom Rudolph 6-foot-2 of Sandusky, Claude Graves, 6-foot-1 of St. Marys, and Charles Burns 5-foot-9 of Kent Roosevelt.

The remainder of the North squad includes Jim Cox 6-foot-5 star from Toledo Macomber; Salem's Don Davidson, who was named to the first All-Ohio team; Lee Johnson of Elyria 6-foot-4 and a possible starter at center; Bob Dwors 6-foot-3 of Mayfield Heights, Jeff Gehring, 6-foot-5 of Ottawa Hills and Dave Guldin 6-foot-4 of Akron South.

Dwors is the top scorer on the team with a 29.1 average during the 1960-61 season.

Both squads have been working out each day this week at the Cuyahoga High gym.

LA Regains NL Lead By Half Game

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers are back on top in the National League race, gaining a half-game edge by beating the Chicago Cubs 7-0 Wednesday night. Pittsburgh dropped Cincinnati 5-4, and San Francisco tied the Reds for second place with an 11-2 job on Milwaukee.

The St. Louis-Philadelphia game was rained out.

The Dodgers knocked off the Cubs behind the five-hit pitching of Don Drysdale (5-3). It was his first shutout of the season. Backed by four double plays, Drysdale didn't allow a runner past first. He walked but two and struck out seven.

Drysdale also belted a homer. So did Tommy Davis, who drove in three runs. He brought in one in the first with a sacrifice fly, and the Dodgers then chased loser Don Cardwell (5-3) with three runs in the second, two unearned.

Dick Stuart did it for the Pirates. He drove in four runs with a single, triple and homer, beating the Reds with a two-run triple in the ninth off losing reliever Jim Brosnan (2-2). The Reds gained 3-2 and 4-3 leads against Bob Friend and Elroy Face before Bobby Shantz (3-1) took the decision with one hitless inning of relief.

The Giants, with a seven-run seventh inning, beat Warren Spahn (7-7), the southpaw ace who has beaten them twice. Harvey Kuenn opened the big seventh with a double and closed it with a two-run triple. Willie Mays and Ed Bailey hit home runs for the Giants, with Bailey rapping two, and each drove in three runs. Juan Marichal, beating the Braves for the second time, collected a 3-3 record with a five-hitter, giving up fifth-inning homers by Frank Thomas and Joe Torre.

Ford Gains 10th, Maris Hits 22nd; Grant Risks Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Grant lays his unblemished record on the line again tonight as the Cleveland Indians square off in the rubber game of the series against the New York Yankees.

The Mudcat, who has won seven without a loss, hasn't faced the Yankees this year and it could be his sternest test. New York also plans to start an unbeaten pitcher, Ralph Terry (4-0).

Cleveland lost to the Yankees 11-5 Wednesday night. Gary Bell suffered his sixth setback in 10 decisions.

The Indians trailed 2-1 until the sixth inning when the Yankees made it a 5-2 bulge. Little Bobby Richardson put the game virtually out of reach with a three-run homer in the seventh—his first of the year.

The loss dropped the Indians into a tie with Detroit for the American League lead. New York is only a game back.

Bell was hooked up in a duel with Whitey Ford for five innings. The two runs he allowed were produced by Roger Maris' 22nd home run of the year in the fourth inning.

But the Yankees got to Bell for three runs in the sixth, and any hopes Cleveland had of getting back into it were dashed when the Yanks got four in the seventh off Johnny Antonelli. In their own seventh the Tribe narrowed the Yankees' 9-2 lead to 9-5.

Chuck Essegian unloaded his fourth homer to cap the too-little-too-late uprising.

Ford got his 10th victory in 12 decisions to tie Frank Lary for most victories in the American League this year. He left after seven innings, but he was pleased.

"I like this pitching every four days," said the 32-year-old southpaw, who used to get five or six days between assignments under Casey Stengel. "It gives me more starts and I think I've been just as effective.

"That long seventh inning (when the Indians scored three runs) got me all stiffened up. That's why I came out."

Luis Arroyo finished up with two innings of hitless ball.

Maris, who hit a homer in a losing cause Tuesday night, isn't worried about his batting average —.234 before Wednesday night's game.

"You're most valuable to your team with the home runs and the RBI," he said. "I'm satisfield." His 50 runs batted in top the Yankees and his 22 homers top the league.

Lary's 10th Victory Nets Tigers Tie For First In AL

Detroit Gains 4-2 Win Over Boston

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, with Frank Lary becoming the first pitcher to win 10 in the majors this season, beat Boston 4-2 Wednesday and gained a tie for first place with Cleveland in the American League race when the New York Yankees beat the Indians 11-5.

Whitey Ford, with relief help by Luis Arroyo, also won his 10th for the third place Yankees, who are one game behind.

Washington beat Baltimore 5-1, Kansas City tagged Minnesota 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox ran up a six-game streak with a 4-1 and 9-8 twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Los Angeles Angels.

A two-run triple by Billy Bruton wrapped it up for the Tigers as they scored three in the fourth inning against the Red Sox and loser Billy Muffett (2-6). Lary (10-3), had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when Boston scored on four singles and a sacrifice fly by Frank Malzone.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson drove in six runs between them for the Yankees. Maris brought them from behind with a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Gary Bell (4-6), and Richardson capped a four-run seventh inning with a three-run homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli.

Ford gave up eight hits, one a solo homer by Chuck Essegian. Arroyo then mopped up with two innings of hitless relief.

A five-run second inning, triggered by Gene Green's two-run homer, did it for the Senators as Dick Donovan (3-5) won his third in a row with a six-hitter. Steve Barber (7-5) was the loser.

Kansas City was shut out on two hits for 7 1-3 innings by Camilo Pascual, but broke loose for eight runs in the eight. Jerry Walker (3-3) won it in relief. Pascual was the loser.

Ray Herbert and Don Larsen, two right-handers acquired from Kansas City Saturday, wrapped up the White Sox's sweep. Herbert (4-6), won the opener with a three-hitter.

Johnny James (0-2) was the loser.

Larsen then saved the second game for Frank Baumann (5-6) after the Angels broke loose for five runs in the eighth inning and another in the ninth on Steve Bilko's homer. The Sox tagged loser Rom Moeller (2-5) for seven runs in the first inning.

2 Americans Are Left In British Golf

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—Ralph Morrow, gangling Oklahoman with a yen to turn professional, went into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament today with the way wide open to the semifinals.

"Both the seeds in my quarter have been knocked out," said the tall, relaxed Morrow who hits the ball just about as far as anybody in the field.

"I reckon, with a bit of luck, I can get at least to the semifinals. If I make it, then I'll probably come up against Joe Carr. Then it will be real tough."

Carr is the 39-year-old Irishman who has won the title three times and is defending the crown this year.

Morrow, from Oklahoma City, and Henry Timbrook, 40-year-old financier from Los Angeles, are the only American survivors in the last 32. Twenty-six Americans were entered when the championship opened on Monday.

Four of the eight all-British seeds were left in the last 32. They included Carr; Michael Bonallack and Martin Christmas of England, and Jimmy Walker of Scotland.

County-City League Action Is Postponed

All of Wednesday's County-City League games were postponed because of wet grounds. The East Liverpool Cox - Merchants will meet Columbiana Friday at 6 p. m. at Patterson Field.

Midnight Will End Trading In Baseball

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night the general managers of big league baseball clubs sit up late, waiting for the phone to ring.

At midnight, local time, June 15, the trading deadline goes into effect. After that hour no player can be traded from one major league club to another without waivers. The rule remains in effect until the end of the season.

In case you are weak on baseball's legal terminology, waivers are the process by which each club in the league gets a chance to grab a certain player for $20,000. The teams lowest in the standings get first crack and so on up.

New York turned to its old buddies in Kansas City for pitching help Wednesday, completing the 17th deal between the two clubs, involving 64 players, since 1955. Although owner Chuck Finley of the A's recently said no more trades with the Yanks, his general manager, Frank Lane, said he had Finley's approval.

The acquisition of Bud Daley, a left-handed starting pitcher, to team with Whitey Ford figures to strengthen the Yanks, especially at the stadium where southpaws usually are more effective than righties. To get Daley, New York sent pitcher Art Ditmar and infielder Deron Johnson to the A's.

The Yanks also made another move, acquiring Billy Gardner, veteran infielder, from the Minnesota Twins for Danny McDevitt, left-handed pitcher.

Curry, Torres Pace Buffalo

Felix Torres and Tony Curry, sluggers for the new Buffalo Bisons of the International League, shook off lengthy slumps Wednesday night and slammed five hits between them including a home run apiece to spark a 10-4 victory over Jersey City.

Rochester snapped a four-game losing streak when it won from Columbus, 6-5. But the Jets came back to win the doubleheader nightcap, 4-1, cutting Charleston's first place margin to two games as the Marlins lost to Toronto, 7-6. Richmond beat Syracuse 6-2.

Rochester won the opener with two out in the seventh and last inning when Luke Easter singled and Ray Barker homered. Reliever Diomedes Olivo, a winner Tuesday night, took the loss. Al Jackson's six-hitter gained the Jets the split.

Two home runs, the second a grand slammer by Earl Hersh, accounted for all Toronto runs as the Leafs edged the Marlins.

East End Nine Wins Third Straight In City Softball

The East End Merchants made it three straight in the City Softball League Wednesday with a 3-2 extra-inning victory over the Wellsville Merchants.

While East End moved into first place, Gallagher's Market picked up its first win in two starts by dropping Owls Club, 8-5.

Gail Talbott's four-hit pitching featured for East End. Talbott has hurled 19 innings in two days and given up nine hits and four runs over this stretch.

East End's winning margin came in the nine inning when Tice and Harvey singled. Tice scored on Jackson's sacrifice fly to left. McMillan led the attack with two hits while Jim Potts homered.

Bob Gallagher stroked three hits to pace Gallagher's while Click had a triple and a double. Glen McGaffic was the winning pitcher and Dan Barton the loser.

Snead Looms Sentimental Favorite As U.S. Open Tourney Rolls Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — What witch's brew does Oakland Hills' boiling cauldron hold for Sam Snead, the sentimental favorite in the 61st U.S. Open Golf Tournament which opens today?

Snead, 49, among an eager field of 150, was making his 21st U.S. Open start in quest of his first triumph in a heartbreak trail of near-misses since his first try 24 years ago, also over the same treacherous Oakland Hills Course.

Snead has to beat defending champion Arnold Palmer, leading PGA money-winner Gary Player, four-time Open champion Ben Hogan—to mention a few—but most of all he has to whip the Open whammy against himself.

The irrepressible Snead, at the moment shooting some of the finest golf of his picturesque career disclaimed any jitters entering the 72-hole medal play event concluding with a double 18-hole round Saturday.

Palmer was rated a 5-1 favorite to win. South Africa's Gary Player, who dethroned Palmer as Master's champ was second betting choice at 6-1.

"You all don't think I'm going to win it," grinned Snead. "I don't think so either. So if things go right, I'll surprise everybody, including myself.

"I'll take four 71's and go fishing." That meant Snead figured a 284 would take the Open title won last year by Palmer with 280 at Denver's Cherry Hills course. Par for Oakland Hills is 35-35—70, a four-round total of 280.

Palmer's only pre-battle statement was: "Let's go—at least 10 players can win this and I think 280 will take it."

Snead has won the last three tourneys he has played—the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions, the Sam Snead Festival and the International Canada Cup. Only once in his last 12 rounds has Slammin Sammy been over 70.

Negley Stock Driver Continues Lead At Clinton

CLINTON — George Heller of Negley, continues to dominate the stock car racing at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway ever Sunday night.

Heller is top dog in the point standings with a total of 183 points. His closest rivals are Len Stumpf of Louisville, Ohio and Lou Orler of Follansbee, W. Va. each with 129 points. Amos Hammock of Mingo Jct., Ohio 106 points and Gary Gordon of Crafton, Pa. with 101 points round out the top five in the standings.

The Sunday night racing events are drawing more cars. Over 30 hard top racers appeared for last Sunday's card of racing events at the Clinton oval.

Racing is held each Sunday night at 8:30 p. m., time trials 7:30.

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — The Little League game was called on account of darkness with the Adco's leading Sedalia Ice 45-0.

Lary's 10th Victory Nets Tigers Tie For First In AL

Detroit Gains 4-2 Win Over Boston

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, with Frank Lary becoming the first pitcher to win 10 in the majors this season, beat Boston 4-2 Wednesday and gained a tie for first place with Cleveland in the American League race when the New York Yankees beat the Indians 11-5.

Whitey Ford, with relief help by Luis Arroyo, also won his 10th for the third place Yankees, who are one game behind.

Washington beat Baltimore 5-1, Kansas City tagged Minnesota 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox ran up a six-game streak with a 4-1 and 9-8 twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Los Angeles Angels.

A two-run triple by Billy Bruton wrapped it up for the Tigers as they scored three in the fourth inning against the Red Sox and loser Billy Muffett (2-6). Lary (10-3), had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when Boston scored on four singles and a sacrifice fly by Frank Malzone.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson drove in six runs between them for the Yankees. Maris brought them from behind with a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Gary Bell (4-6), and Richardson capped a four-run seventh inning with a three-run homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli.

Ford gave up eight hits, one a solo homer by Chuck Essegian. Arroyo then mopped up with two innings of hitless relief.

A five-run second inning, triggered by Gene Green's two-run homer, did it for the Senators as Dick Donovan (3-5) won his third in a row with a six-hitter. Steve Barber (7-5) was the loser.

Kansas City was shut out on two hits for 7 1-3 innings by Camilo Pascual, but broke loose for eight runs in the eight. Jerry Walker (3-3) won it in relief. Pascual was the loser.

Ray Herbert and Don Larsen, two right-handers acquired from Kansas City Saturday, wrapped up the White Sox's sweep. Herbert (4-6), won the opener with a three-hitter.

Johnny James (0-2) was the loser.

Larsen then saved the second game for Frank Baumann (5-6) after the Angels broke loose for five runs in the eighth inning and another in the ninth on Steve Bilko's homer. The Sox tagged loser Rom Moeller (2-5) for seven runs in the first inning.

2 Americans Are Left In British Golf

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—Ralph Morrow, gangling Oklahoman with a yen to turn professional, went into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament today with the way wide open to the semifinals.

"Both the seeds in my quarter have been knocked out," said the tall, relaxed Morrow who hits the ball just about as far as anybody in the field.

"I reckon, with a bit of luck, I can get at least to the semifinals. If I make it, then I'll probably come up against Joe Carr. Then it will be real tough."

Carr is the 39-year-old Irishman who has won the title three times and is defending the crown this year.

Morrow, from Oklahoma City, and Henry Timbrook, 40-year-old financier from Los Angeles, are the only American survivors in the last 32. Twenty-six Americans were entered when the championship opened on Monday.

Four of the eight all-British seeds were left in the last 32. They included Carr; Michael Bonallack and Martin Christmas of England, and Jimmy Walker of Scotland.

County-City League Action Is Postponed

Midnight Will End Trading In Baseball

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night the general managers of big league baseball clubs sit up late, waiting for the phone to ring.

At midnight, local time, June 15, the trading deadline goes into effect. After that hour no player can be traded from one major league club to another without waivers. The rule remains in effect until the end of the season.

In case you are weak on baseball's legal terminology, waivers are the process by which each club in the league gets a chance to grab a certain player for $20,000. The teams lowest in the standings get first crack and so on up.

New York turned to its old buddies in Kansas City for pitching help Wednesday, completing the 17th deal between the two clubs, involving 64 players, since 1955. Although owner Chuck Finley of the A's recently said no more trades with the Yanks, his general manager, Frank Lane, said he had Finley's approval.

The acquisition of Bud Daley, a left-handed starting pitcher, to team with Whitey Ford figures to strengthen the Yanks, especially at the stadium where southpaws usually are more effective than righties. To get Daley, New York sent pitcher Art Ditmar and infielder Deron Johnson to the A's.

The Yanks also made another move, acquiring Billy Gardner, veteran infielder, from the Minnesota Twins for Danny McDevitt, left-handed pitcher.

East End Nine Wins Third Straight In City Softball

The East End Merchants made it three straight in the City Softball League Wednesday with a 3-2 extra-inning victory over the Wellsville Merchants.

While East End moved into first place, Gallagher's Market picked up its first win in two starts by dropping Owls Club, 8-5.

Gail Talbott's four-hit pitching featured for East End. Talbott has hurled 19 innings in two days and given up nine hits and four runs over this stretch.

East End's winning margin came in the nine inning when Tice and Harvey singled. Tice scored on Jackson's sacrifice fly to left. McMillan led the attack with two hits while Jim Potts homered.

Bob Gallagher stroked three hits to pace Gallagher's while Click had a triple and a double. Glen McGaffic was the winning pitcher and Dan Barton the loser.

Curry, Torres Pace Buffalo

Felix Torres and Tony Curry, sluggers for the new Buffalo Bisons of the International League, shook off lengthy slumps Wednesday night and slammed five hits between them including a home run apiece to spark a 10-4 victory over Jersey City.

Rochester snapped a four-game losing streak when it won from Columbus, 6-5. But the Jets came back to win the doubleheader nightcap, 4-1, cutting Charleston's first place margin to two games as the Marlins lost to Toronto, 7-6. Richmond beat Syracuse 6-2.

Rochester won the opener with two out in the seventh and last inning when Luke Easter singled and Ray Barker homered. Reliever Diomedes Olivo, a winner Tuesday night, took the loss. Al Jackson's six-hitter gained the Jets the split.

Two home runs, the second a grand slammer by Earl Hersh, accounted for all Toronto runs as the Leafs edged the Marlins.

Snead Looms Sentimental Favorite As U.S. Open Tourney Rolls Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — What witch's brew does Oakland Hills' boiling cauldron hold for Sam Snead, the sentimental favorite in the 61st U.S. Open Golf Tournament which opens today?

Snead, 49, among an eager field of 150, was making his 21st U.S. Open start in quest of his first triumph in a heartbreak trail of near-misses since his first try 24 years ago, also over the same treacherous Oakland Hills Course.

Snead has to beat defending champion Arnold Palmer, leading PGA money-winner Gary Player, four-time Open champion Ben Hogan—to mention a few—but most of all he has to whip the Open whammy against himself.

The irrepressible Snead, at the moment shooting some of the finest golf of his picturesque career disclaimed any jitters entering the 72-hole medal play event concluding with a double 18-hole round Saturday.

Palmer was rated a 5-1 favorite to win. South Africa's Gary Player, who dethroned Palmer as Master's champ was second betting choice at 6-1.

"You all don't think I'm going to win it," grinned Snead. "I don't think so either. So if things go right, I'll surprise everybody, including myself.

"I'll take four 71's and go fishing." That meant Snead figured a 284 would take the Open title won last year by Palmer with 280 at Denver's Cherry Hills course. Par for Oakland Hills is 35-35—70, a four-round total of 280.

Palmer's only pre-battle statement was: "Let's go—at least 10 players can win this and I think 280 will take it."

Snead has won the last three tourneys he has played—the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions, the Sam Snead Festival and the International Canada Cup. Only once in his last 12 rounds has Slammin Sammy been over 70.

Negley Stock Driver Continues Lead At Clinton

CLINTON — George Heller of Negley, continues to dominate the stock car racing at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway ever Sunday night.

Heller is top dog in the point standings with a total of 183 points. His closest rivals are Len Stumpf of Louisville, Ohio and Lou Orler of Follansbee, W. Va. each with 129 points. Amos Hammock of Mingo Jct., Ohio 106 points and Gary Gordon of Crafton, Pa. with 101 points round out the top five in the standings.

The Sunday night racing events are drawing more cars. Over 30 hard top racers appeared for last Sunday's card of racing events at the Clinton oval.

Racing is held each Sunday night at 8:30 p. m., time trials 7:30.

Southern Cal Seen Heavy Favorite In NCAA Meet

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The University of Southern California rates a solid favorite to win the NCAA Track and Field Championship Friday and Saturday and Coach Jess Mortensen is not crying woif.

"I think," he said today, "that it will take 50 points to win the team title and I don't see why we can't score that many points."

The Trojans already have won the title 21 times in the 40-year history of the meet, and Mortensen has piloted the team to six crowns in his 10 years on the job.

Even with the loss of Rex Cawley, who pulled a leg muscle Tuesday and probably will have to scratch, the Trojans will have a hard time losing.

Mortensen has two defending champions on hand and a flock of other talented performers who are certain point-scorers. Dallas Long, who won the shot put with a meet record 61-9 last year should improve on that.

Luther Hayes of the Trojans also set a meet record last year with a 50-11½ hop, step and jump, already has done 51-9¼ this year.

Other favorites include Ben McRae of Michigan in the 120-yard hurdles, Rex Stucker of Kansas State in the 440-yard hurdles, Frank Budd of Villanova in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, John Macy of Houston in the 3-mile, Karl Johnsone of Arizona in the discus, Chuck Wilkinson of Redlands in javelin, Stan Doten of Harvard in the hammer throw and Darrell Horn of Oregon State in the broad jump and Norm Hoffman of Oregon State in the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

Defending champion Kansas, along with Oregon, San Jose State, UCLA, Villanova, Michigan and Oregon State also have strong squads.

Bruins, Rangers In Hockey Swap

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, the tail-end clubs in the Natoinal Hockey League last season, each have a new look today after revamping their rosters during a lively player-swapping session.

The Bruins obtained forwards Orland Kurtenbach and Earl Balfour and defenseman Pat Stapleton in the annual NHL draft Wednesday. Kurtenbach was acquired from New York and the other two from Chicago.

Kurtenbach scored 20 goals for Vancouver of the Western League last season.

The Bruins lost two of the eight players grabbed in the draft. They were veteran center Bronco Horvath and defenseman Autry Erickson. Both went to the Stanley Cup champion Chicago Black Hawks.

The Rangers picked up left winger Jean Guy Gendron from Montreal and Vic Hadfield, another forward, from Chicago. Gendron returns to the Rangers for whom he played for three seasons starting in 1955-56.

Toronto's only selection was Al Arbour, a defenseman from Chicago. The purchase price for each of the eight players was $20,000.

In transactions following the draft, the Rangers sent Lou Fontinato, their aggressive defenseman, to the Canadiens and completed the deal that brought Doug Harvey to New York as player-coach; and Chicago traded Eddie Litzenberger to Detroit for Jerry Melnyk and Brian Smith.

No Serious Carolina Incidents

Florida-Bound 'Riders' Continue Station Protest

By The Associated Press

The Florida-bound "Freedom Riders" today continued their protest against bus station segregation after testing South Carolina's citadel of racial separation without serious incident.

The largest of three groups left Sumter, S.C., without difficulty shortly after midnight, en route to Jacksonville, Fla. The four Jewish rabbis, eight white Protestant ministers and six Negro ministers were to change buses at Jacksonville and go to Tallahassee, Florida's capital, before flying back to New York this afternoon.

Two inter-racial groups spent the night in Charleston and were to leave for Savannah, Ga., in the morning. From there the seven men and women in each group were to go to Jacksonville, spend the night, and possibly combine for an extended ride, probably to Tampa, Fla.

The riders left Washington via Greyhound bus to make the first such test of Florida's segregation practices. They were refused restaurant service in two small South Carolina towns but encountered no trouble in the Charleston terminal restaurant.

Two buses brought 14 of the riders to Charleston from Wilmington, N.C. A third bus carried the clergymen from Raleigh, N.C., to Sumter, where they halted for a church service. The clergymen were refused lunch counter service at a motel cafe on the outskirts of Sumter. They later ate at a Negro cafe.

The first group of riders arriving from Wilmington reported no difficulty en route. The second group of seven reported two members ran into trouble at Conway, S. C.

Mrs. Dupree C. White, 40, a Negro from New York City, said a white man walked behind the depot lunch counter, grabbed a knife, and ordered her and a companion to leave. She said a waitress refused them service.

Laura Randall, 25, a New York white woman making her first freedom ride, said the man gestured with the knife but she did not view his action as a threat to attack them.

In other racial developments:

The city of New Rochelle, N.Y., asked a federal appeals court to stay an order allowing students in a predominantly Negro school to transfer to other schools. The Board of Education president said preventable chaos would result if the order, now being appealed, is put into effect and later reversed.

The city of Memphis, Tenn., asked a federal court to approve a plan for gradual desegregation of municipal recreation facilities. The plan was a counter to a suit demanding that all tax-supported recreational facilities be desegregated immediately.

The U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans held that the New York Times and one of its staff members can not be sued for libel in Alabama. The case stemmed from an article on segregation which appeared in the newspaper.

The New Britain, Conn., park board ordered an investigation of the rejection of membership applications from two Negroes by a golf club which uses the municipal course and makes special use of municipal club house facilities.

$250,000 Loss Set In Poultry Plant Fire

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Fire destroyed one of the state's largest poultry and egg processing plants Wednesday. Loss at the Koppenhofer Bros. plant at Deshler was about $250,000.

All of the 50 or so workers in the 185- by 125-foot structure when the fire broke out escaped unhurt. Firemen said defective wiring apparently started the fire. The plant processed thousands of turkeys and 3,000-4,000 cases of eggs each week.

Pitched Ball Fatal To Little Leaguer

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—A Little League baseball player died after being struck in the neck by a pitched ball.

The accident occurred in the third inning of a game Wednesday night while Burmit Estes, 12, was catching for the Moose Lodge team. The ball bounced off home plate and hit him in the neck between the chest protector and face mask.

The boy fielded the ball and tossed it back to the pitcher, then collapsed. Artificial respiration failed to revive him.

A doctor reported the ball apparently ruptured a large artery.

New California Law Speeds Ballot Count

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California has a new election law designed to eliminate slow ballot counting such as kept the outcome of the last presidential race in this state uncertain for days.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed legislation Wednesday which requires absentee ballots to be returned to county clerks three days before election. Under the old law, these ballots could be received up to six days after election.

Brown said slow counting of absentee ballots could have been serious if the nation were in a crisis.

Ants Liked Wiring: Traffic Signal Stops

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A busy intersection's traffic signal went on the blink for nearly four hours—ants found the wiring tasty.

Electronics Technician Bob Ogan explained: The insects apparently found a certain type of wiring insulation to their liking. They ate it off. Then some ants bridged between the wires and the metal control box case, shorting the signal.

The insulation was replaced—with a type less appetizing to ants.

Southern Cal Seen Heavy Favorite In NCAA Meet

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The University of Southern California rates a solid favorite to win the NCAA Track and Field Championship Friday and Saturday and Coach Jess Mortensen is not crying woif.

"I think," he said today, "that it will take 50 points to win the team title and I don't see why we can't score that many points."

The Trojans already have won the title 21 times in the 40-year history of the meet, and Mortensen has piloted the team to six crowns in his 10 years on the job.

Even with the loss of Rex Cawley, who pulled a leg muscle Tuesday and probably will have to scratch, the Trojans will have a hard time losing.

Mortensen has two defending champions on hand and a flock of other talented performers who are certain point-scorers. Dallas Long, who won the shot put with a meet record 61-9 last year should improve on that.

Luther Hayes of the Trojans also set a meet record last year with a 50-11½ hop, step and jump, already has done 51-9¼ this year.

John Thomas of Boston University, whose 7-3¾ still stands as the official world record, appears to be the class of the high jump again.

Other favorites include Ben McRae of Michigan in the 120-yard hurdles, Rex Stucker of Kansas State in the 440-yard hurdles, Frank Budd of Villanova in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, John Macy of Houston in the 3-mile, Karl Johnsone of Arizona in the discus, Chuck Wilkinson of Redlands in javelin, Stan Doten of Harvard in the hammer throw and Darrell Horn of Oregon State in the broad jump and Norm Hoffman of Oregon State in the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

Defending champion Kansas, along with Oregon, San Jose State, UCLA, Villanova, Michigan and Oregon State also have strong squads.

Bruins, Rangers In Hockey Swap

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, the tail-end clubs in the National Hockey League last season, each have a new look today after revamping their rosters during a lively player-swapping session.

The Bruins obtained forwards Orland Kurtenbach and Earl Balfour and defenseman Pat Stapleton in the annual NHL draft Wednesday. Kurtenbach was acquired from New York and the other two from Chicago.

Kurtenbach scored 20 goals for Vancouver of the Western League last season.

The Bruins lost two of the eight players grabbed in the draft. They were veteran center Bronco Horvath and defenseman Autry Erickson. Both went to the Stanley Cup champion Chicago Black Hawks.

The Rangers picked up left winger Jean Guy Gendron from Montreal and Vic Hadfield, another forward, from Chicago. Gendron returns to the Rangers for whom he played for three seasons starting in 1955-56.

Toronto's only selection was Al Arbour, a defenseman from Chicago. The purchase price for each of the eight players was $20,000.

In transactions following the draft, the Rangers sent Lou Fontinato, their aggressive defenseman, to the Canadiens and completed the deal that brought Doug Harvey to New York as player-coach; and Chicago traded Eddie Litzenberger to Detroit for Jerry Melnyk and Brian Smith.

No Serious Carolina Incidents

Florida-Bound 'Riders' Continue Station Protest

By The Associated Press

The Florida-bound "Freedom Riders" today continued their protest against bus station segregation after testing South Carolina's citadel of racial separation without serious incident.

The largest of three groups left Sumter, S.C., without difficulty shortly after midnight, en route to Jacksonville, Fla. The four Jewish rabbis, eight white Protestant ministers and six Negro ministers were to change buses at Jacksonville and go to Tallahassee, Florida's capital, before flying back to New York this afternoon.

Two inter-racial groups spent the night in Charleston and were to leave for Savannah, Ga., in the morning. From there the seven men and women in each group were to go to Jacksonville, spend the night, and possibly combine for an extended ride, probably to Tampa, Fla.

The riders left Washington via Greyhound bus to make the first such test of Florida's segregation practices. They were refused restaurant service in two small South Carolina towns but encountered no trouble in the Charleston terminal restaurant.

Two buses brought 14 of the riders to Charleston from Wilmington, N.C. A third bus carried the clergymen from Raleigh, N.C., to Sumter, where they halted for a church service. The clergymen were refused lunch counter service at a motel cafe on the outskirts of Sumter. They later ate at a Negro cafe.

The first group of riders arriving from Wilmington reported no difficulty en route. The second group of seven reported two members ran into trouble at Conway, S. C.

Mrs. Dupree C. White, 40, a Negro from New York City, said a white man walked behind the depot lunch counter, grabbed a knife, and ordered her and a companion to leave. She said a waitress refused them service.

Laura Randall, 25, a New York white woman making her first freedom ride, said the man gestured with the knife but she did not view his action as a threat to attack them.

In other racial developments:

The city of New Rochelle, N.Y., asked a federal appeals court to stay an order allowing students in a predominantly Negro school to transfer to other schools. The Board of Education president said preventable chaos would result if the order, now being appealed, is put into effect and later reversed.

The city of Memphis, Tenn., asked a federal court to approve a plan for gradual desegregation of municipal recreation facilities. The plan was a counter to a suit demanding that all tax-supported recreational facilities be desegregated immediately.

The U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans held that the New York Times and one of its staff members can not be sued for libel in Alabama. The case stemmed from an article on segregation which appeared in the newspaper.

The New Britain, Conn., park board ordered an investigation of the rejection of membership applications from two Negroes by a golf club which uses the municipal course and makes special use of municipal club house facilities.

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Fire destroyed one of the state's largest poultry and egg processing plants Wednesday. Loss at the Koppenhofer Bros. plant at Deshler was about $250,000.

All of the 50 or so workers in the 185- by 125-foot structure when the fire broke out escaped unhurt. Firemen said defective wiring apparently started the fire. The plant processed thousands of turkeys and 3,000-4,000 cases of eggs each week.

Daly Insists On Control

The will to be the foremost horse in the team may cost John Daly his second job in six months.

He relinquished a vice presidency when his leadership of the ABC news department was threatened, and now a matter of insufficient authority appears to have come in the way of Daly's acceptance of the "Today" show as replacement for Dave Garroway. "They want a master of ceremonies," says Daly following exploratory talks with NBC.

Marie Torre

He would want "virtually complete control" of the production, a degree of participation that would give him freedom to appoint his own staff and a voice in the selection of subject matter for each day's show.

-:-

HE WOULD WANT, in effect to be an "active" leader rather than a figurehead, and he isn't about to accept the assignment under any other terms ("It's not my dish of tea").

The fact is, no further talks are scheduled between Daly and NBC — to the distress of the network, perhaps, for the demands of the "Today" show plus the special requirements of the role, make it a hard job to fill.

As for Daly, he appears to be in no great hurry to become affiliated with a major television enterprise at this time.

For one thing, "What's My Line?" ensures him weekly exposure on TV as well as a considerable income. For another, he is still on the much-needed vacation he promised himself after he resigned from ABC.

"To be honest about it," Daly added, "I'm not slept out yet."

-:-

SOME OF THE more incongruous moments on TV were perpetrated by male news correspondents who tried to describe Jacqueline Kennedy's clothes and hair styles in specials on the First Lady's odyssey. In cathedral tones usually reserved for matters of international crises, newsmen spoke of Mrs. Kennedy's clothes and coiffeur with an uneasiness that was almost comical.

Louis Nye and Bill (Jose Jiminez) Dana will be reunited as regulars on "The Steven Allen Show," which begins Sept. 27 on ABC. . . .

NBC Radio announces "Instant News" specials, which will provide immediate coverage of major news stories in any part of the world. The radio network calls the series "a new concept" as if totally unaware that its sister television at NBC has been providing "instant news" specials since the beginning of the season. . . .

TELEVISION and movies are not going to the dogs, according to the American Humane Association. Only .007 of the animal "actors" at work during April were dogs, says the AHA. Faring better than the canine set, in terms of numbers employed, were mules, sheep, cows and horses—in that order. Horses accounted for 70 per cent of all animal thespians not looking for work during the month, a fact which ties in with the long-run of TV Westerns. Next season, however, there will be many an unemployed horse. . . .

A TV station in Tokyo has purchased 54 episodes of "The Untouchables" for $100,000., . . .

SUNDAY BEING Father's Day, Dinah Shore turns over her show to a "father," friend and comedian — George Gobel. . . .

Peter Lawford entered into a $10 million deal with United Artists to produce TV and theatrical features over the next three years. . . .

Of the summer shows, "Mystery Theater," replacing Perry Como, seems to have one of the better ideas. The summer series will be made up of mystery and suspense films produced for TV in England and never before shown here. More programs from other countries certainly would be an improvement over reruns.

VFW Council Airs State Bill

Proposed legislation affecting the Soldiers & Sailors Relief Commission was discussed at a meeting of the Columbiana County Veterans of Foreign Wars Council Wednesday night at East Liverpool Post 66.

A letter was received from Rep. Clarence Wetzel in answer to an inquiry by the council on the proposed bill. Wetzel said his feelings are in accord with the council, stating he is opposed to any move to abolish the commission or to reorganize it.

The council voted to send a letter to Howard Cole of Lisbon, VFW legislative representative, thanking him for his work on legislative matters concerning veterans at Columbus.

A report was heard from the relief commission, stating a meeting was to be held with the county commissioners this morning at Lisbon. The commission will ask for more funds for the remainder of the year.

Twenty-two, representing seven posts, were present. Emmett Daniels, commander, presided.

The annual department conference June 21-25 at Dayton was discussed. The council voted a donation to the 6th District headquarters to help defray headquarter hotel expenses at the conference.

It was announced a welcome will be held at Steubenville for Miss Barbara Sass, a graduate of the National Home in Michigan, who will enter Steubenville College in the fall. The date has been set tentatively for Sept. 17. She will attend college on a department scholarship.

Next meeting is July 12 at Salem.

Parents, Here's What Some Third Graders Think Of You

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) —They yell, they're pretty nutty, but they're loved—a few samples of what some third graders think about their parents.

The 8-year-olds at Brooklyn Avenue School in the Long Island community were asked by their teacher, Annette Higgins, to write anonymously their views on three topics: Parents; School and teachers; Why people should like me.

On parents:

"Parents are o.k. I guess but sometimes they yell and hit and that makes me mad. But no matter what I still love them."

"They're pretty nutty if you ask me."

"If both parents love you at the same time, that's great."

"They don't understand children very much."

"I think parents are lucky to have children."

On school and teachers:

"School is for children who want to learn. But if you don't want to learn you have to go anyway."

"If I never went to school I would be stupid but I would be happy."

On themselves:

"A lot of people like me but I don't know why."

"I try my best but still some people do not like me."

"I guess people like me because I am very nice."

"They like me because I am good-looking."

"I don't expect everyone to like me."

"My friends like me because I am not a big shot."

"I like me and people should like me. I don't see anything wrong with me."

The class which turned in the appraisals consists of 17 boys and 16 girls.

Mrs. Higgins, who has been teaching for four years, had nothing but praise for her pupils.

"Third graders are the best," she said, Wednesday, "they're quick and sharp." She added: "You can see the progress from one day to the next" and "I love them like my own."

Courthouse Due Gas Heat

Hancock County commissioners have approved plans to install gas furnaces in the 40-year-old County Courthouse building and the newer Health Department building in New Cumberland.

Bids are sought for gas furnaces to replace an old, coal-fired boiler in the basement of the two-story Courthouse building, and a converted coal furnace in the Health Department.

William C. Graham of Chester, Grant District commissioner, said bids will be opened July 5 at 10 a. m. by the three commissioners.

Graham said the gas facilities will keep the Courthouse free of coal dust and dirt. A new gas furnace was installed last fall to heat the County Jail and the adjoining residence of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

Specifications for the projects may be obtained from Donald G. Stewart, county clerk. Sherwin Williams, custodian of the Courthouse, has improved the grounds by planting flowers and installing wire fences along the walks. The basement has also been rid of old equipment that accumulated over the years.

Daly Insists On Control

The will to be the foremost horse in the team may cost John Daly his second job in six months.

He relinquished a vice presidency when his leadership of the ABC news department was threatened, and now a matter of insufficient authority appears to have come in the way of Daly's acceptance of the "Today" show as replacement for Dave Garroway. "They want a master of ceremonies," says Daly following exploratory talks with NBC.

Marie Torre

He would want "virtually complete control" of the production, a degree of participation that would give him freedom to appoint his own staff and a voice in the selection of subject matter for each day's show.

-:-

HE WOULD WANT, in effect to be an "active" leader rather than a figurehead, and he isn't about to accept the assignment under any other terms ("It's not my dish of tea").

The fact is, no further talks are scheduled between Daly and NBC — to the distress of the network, perhaps, for the demands of the "Today" show plus the special requirements of the role, make it a hard job to fill.

As for Daly, he appears to be in no great hurry to become affiliated with a major television enterprise at this time.

For one thing, "What's My Line?" ensures him weekly exposure on TV as well as a considerable income. For another, he is still on the much-needed vacation he promised himself after he resigned from ABC.

"To be honest about it," Daly added, "I'm not slept out yet."

-:-

SOME OF THE more incongruous moments on TV were perpetrated by male news correspondents who tried to describe Jacqueline Kennedy's clothes and hair styles in specials on the First Lady's odyssey. In cathedral tones usually reserved for matters of international crises, newsmen spoke of Mrs. Kennedy's clothes and coiffeur with an uneasiness that was almost comical.

Louis Nye and Bill (Jose Jiminez) Dana will be reunited as regulars on "The Steven Allen Show," which begins Sept. 27 on ABC. . . .

NBC Radio announces "Instant News" specials, which will provide immediate coverage of major news stories in any part of the world. The radio network calls the series "a new concept" as if totally unaware that its sister television at NBC has been providing "instant news" specials since the beginning of the season. . . .

TELEVISION and movies are not going to the dogs, according to the American Humane Association. Only .007 of the animal "actors" at work during April were dogs, says the AHA. Faring better than the canine set, in terms of numbers employed, were mules, sheep, cows and horses—in that order. Horses accounted for 70 per cent of all animal thespians not looking for work during the month, a fact which ties in with the long-run of TV Westerns. Next season, however, there will be many an unemployed horse. . . .

A TV station in Tokyo has purchased 54 episodes of "The Untouchables" for $100,000., . . .

VFW Council Airs State Bill

Proposed legislation affecting the Soldiers & Sailors Relief Commission was discussed at a meeting of the Columbiana County Veterans of Foreign Wars Council Wednesday night at East Liverpool Post 66.

A letter was received from Rep. Clarence Wetzel in answer to an inquiry by the council on the proposed bill. Wetzel said his feelings are in accord with the council, stating he is opposed to any move to abolish the commission or to reorganize it.

The council voted to send a letter to Howard Cole of Lisbon, VFW legislative representative, thanking him for his work on legislative matters concerning veterans at Columbus.

A report was heard from the relief commission, stating a meeting was to be held with the county commissioners this morning at Lisbon. The commission will ask for more funds for the remainder of the year.

Twenty-two, representing seven posts, were present. Emmett Daniels, commander, presided.

The annual department conference June 21-25 at Dayton was discussed. The council voted a donation to the 6th District headquarters to help defray headquarter hotel expenses at the conference.

It was announced a welcome will be held at Steubenville for Miss Barbara Sass, a graduate of the National Home in Michigan, who will enter Steubenville College in the fall. The date has been set tentatively for Sept. 17. She will attend college on a department scholarship.

Next meeting is July 12 at Salem.

Parents, Here's What Some Third Graders Think Of You

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) —They yell, they're pretty nutty, but they're loved—a few samples of what some third graders think about their parents.

The 8-year-olds at Brooklyn Avenue School in the Long Island community were asked by their teacher, Annette Higgins, to write anonymously their views on three topics: Parents; School and teachers; Why people should like me.

On parents:

"Parents are o.k. I guess but sometimes they yell and hit and that makes me mad. But no matter what I still love them."

"They're pretty nutty if you ask me."

"If both parents love you at the same time, that's great."

"They don't understand children very much."

"I think parents are lucky to have children."

On school and teachers:

"School is for children who want to learn. But if you don't want to learn you have to go anyway."

"If I never went to school I would be stupid but I would be happy."

On themselves:

"A lot of people like me but I don't know why."

"I try my best but still some people do not like me."

"I guess people like me because I am very nice."

"They like me because I am good-looking."

"I don't expect everyone to like me."

"My friends like me because I am not a big shot."

"I like me and people should like me. I don't see anything wrong with me."

The class which turned in the appraisals consists of 17 boys and 16 girls.

Mrs. Higgins, who has been teaching for four years, had nothing but praise for her pupils.

"Third graders are the best," she said, Wednesday, "they're quick and sharp." She added: "You can see the progress from one day to the next" and "I love them like my own."

City Girl Accepts Cleveland Position

Miss Judy Pittenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pittenger, 639 Blackmore St., who was graduated Sunday from Baldwin Wallace College with a bachelor of science degree with a major in home economics, has accepted a position in Cleveland.

A 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School, she was chosen as one of the outstanding students of the Senior Class.

She was a member of Alpha XI Delta Sorority. She served during her senior year as president of the Women's Self Governing Association and the Home Economic Club.

She will serve as junior executive in the training program of Higby's Department Store in Cleveland in September.

Attending the exercises in addition to her parents were her sister, Mrs. Gene Cartwright of Dayton and her aunts and uncle, Mrs. Edgar Pittenger and Mr. and Mrs. William Fischer.

Courthouse Due Gas Heat

Hancock County commissioners have approved plans to install gas furnaces in the 40-year-old County Courthouse building and the newer Health Department building in New Cumberland.

Bids are sought for gas furnaces to replace an old, coal-fired boiler in the basement of the two-story Courthouse building, and a converted coal furnace in the Health Department.

William C. Graham of Chester, Grant District commissioner, said bids will be opened July 5 at 10 a. m. by the three commissioners.

Graham said the gas facilities will keep the Courthouse free of coal dust and dirt. A new gas furnace was installed last fall to heat the County Jail and the adjoining residence of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

Specifications for the projects may be obtained from Donald G. Stewart, county clerk. Sherwin Williams, custodian of the Courthouse, has improved the grounds by planting flowers and installing wire fences along the walks. The basement has also been rid of old equipment that accumulated over the years.

'Is This (Moon) Trip Necessary'

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The cost of landing an American on the moon is as astronomical as the deed itself.

So costly, in fact, that some influential persons are asking "is this trip necessary?"

Last In A Series

President Kennedy says it is. The United States must take a "clearly leading role" in space, he told Congress last month, "for while we cannot guarantee that we shall one day be first, we can guarantee any failure to share this (space) effort will make us last.

He called on the nation to make an all-out effort to land a man on the moon by the decade's end. The nation has the talents and resources, he said.

—:—

BUT IT WILL require mobilization of them on broad and long-range scale never before practiced in the United States, he said.

And it will cost heavily, the President warned.

Take Saturn as an example of the cost. Although the first test flight is months away, the government already has spent $330 million.

"All the public has got for its money so far," Hugh Dryden said, "are a few pictures of an enormous thing and some noises that have shaken up the vicinity of Huntsville" where Wernher von Braun is directing the program.

And an even bigger rocket than Saturn will be needed for a lunar landing.

NASA Chief James Webb has testified it will cost between $20 and $40 billion to land a moon man. That could mean $4 billion a year just for a lunar landing, more than the United States is spending on foreign aid.

After Gagarin's flight, Rep. Victor L. Anfuso (D-NY) said the nation should go on a war footing at once to catch Russia.

Webb said the United States would welcome the chance to perform space spectaculars but added "what we really need to show the world is that we do things in a solid, orderly way."

—:—

SOME MEN, such as Dr. Lee Dubridge, president of California Institute of Technology, wonder whether its worth the effort at all to go to the moon when millions on earth are ill-housed, ill-fed and illiterate. And what's so hot about the moon, anyway?

Militarily, no one can really say. But Gen. John B. Medaris thinks "the moon is the greatest advertising billboard since the advent of Coca-Cola." Whichever nation is the first to land a man there will score a profound, perhaps conclusive, psychological victory.

"We have to continue to be leader if our system is to survive," said Roy Johnson former head of the Advanced Research Project Agency. "From a humanitarian viewpoint, we should have everyone fed, sheltered and clothed. But from a practical matter, we shouldn't slow the whole world to catch up with the lowest man on the ladder."

The United States has not yet had to choose between Lee Dubridge and Roy Johnson. The nation seems rich enough to spend heavily in both humanitarian and space projects. But the burden is getting greater.

Kennedy asked Congress for $7-$9 billion additional space funds for the next five years. He asked $679 million more for this year alone.

NASA, which in fiscal 1959 received $338,000,000, this year asked $1.4 billion. Kennedy's administration before Gagarin cut $182 million. Congress after Gagarin restored $88 million and indicates when it comes to space, it is in a spending mood. Last year NASA got every cent it asked.

IS MONEY all our space program needs?

"We've been successful up to now," said Johnson, "because we had enough to stumble through, enough to have many different missiles. But now we are running out of dollars. We are no longer capable to blunder through by guess and by God. Unless we get reorganization and forget about politics . . ." he didn't finish the sentence.

"We laugh about Russia and its 10-year plans," he resumed. "We only have one-year plans because Congress won't appropriate more than one year ahead. This cripples our long-range planning and our lack of that is democracy's greatest weakness.

"Russia can concentrate all its resources wherever it wants to out-perform us," he said. "It has chosen to do so in space."

To meet this challenge, the United States must coordinate and plan governmental and scientific agencies to an extent some conservatives may object violates our free enterprise system, Johnson feels. "Some middle ground" must be found between a laissez faire approach and the totalitarian methods of Russia.

IN A VERY real sense the entire nation will be going to the moon, Kennedy said, "for all of us must work to put an astronaut there."

The United States is not yet organized for such an effort, said Johnson. Space programs are divided between the Air Force, which concentrates on missiles, and NASA which handles only scientific space projects. Thus NASA, for instance, is developing Saturn which has been judged to have no immediate military application.

"This fragmentation of space is ridiculous," Johnson said. "Until we have peace, we should stop talking about the peaceful use of space. It's military."

"Satellites, lunar expeditions, advance propulsion systems — not a single item ... (is) totally devoid of present or future military applications," wrote Medaris in his book "Countdown for Decision." Yet great men and their organizations ... are carefully fenced off from cooperative work on any military objective. Truly an Alice - in - Wonderland approach."

Duplication between NASA and the Air Force is "substantial," he said. Furthermore, he added, more is learned from mistakes than successes and it is the nature of a combined project for one agency to keep its mistakes to itself.

"In terms of one department working with another, there is no reward for confession," he said.

An NASA spokesman noted, however, that the very success of Shepard's flight, done with military co-operation, demonstrates the effectiveness of a dual program.

NASA and Air Force experts are assigned to each other's programs. Their rocket arsenals are being trimmed to have a minimum assortment of types for the jobs at hand — and to be used as interchangeably as possible. Supervising the whole space program is Vice President Lyndon Johnson's space committee.

But it's up to the White House and, ultimately, the American people to decide to what extent the nation should drop other matters and make a beeline into space. Like the moon, these issues are rapidly rising on the horizon. They will not soon set.

Scientists Call Ceramics Answer For Generators

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Ceramics, rather than iron and steel, may be the key materials for building the electric power generators of the future.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. scientists have shown them to be the best substances so far discovered for holding in check the white-hot stream of gases from which electric power is obtained in magnetohydrodynamic (MHD) generators.

Using them, Westinghouse scientists have operated an experimental MHD generator continuously for record periods of time up to 50 minutes. The usual operating period for such generators is only a few seconds.

The ceramic materials — chemical relatives of those so widely used for making bricks, tile and pottery — are used to line the walls of the generator and to project into the stream of gas that provides the electric power.

Magnetohydrodynamics is one of the newest and most promising methods for the direct generation of electricity without the use of a steam turbine or rotating electric generator.

MHD generators are of interest because they are potentially more efficient, smaller in size and less costly than the large - scale systems in standard use today, the scientists report.

In MHD generators a moving stream of ionized conducting gas, called a plasma, as hot as 5000 degrees Fahrenheit and with speeds up to 2,000 miles an hour, replaces the moving copper conductors in a conventional generator.

The key problem to be solved in practical MHD power generation is finding materials to contain this white-hot hurricane. Most materials melt, burn up, oxidize, crack from the heat shock, or erode away in the rushing gas.

The ceramics studied by the Westinghouse scientists are the first to be reported that hold up under such conditions for appreciable periods of time.

They by no means solve the problem of long - time, large-scale MHD power generation. They are, however, a first step toward the kinds of materials that may make MHD power feasible.

Among the insulating ceramics tested, the Westinghouse scientists reported that magnesia (magnesium oxide) performed well as an MHD generator lining material. It did not react, did not lose its insulating properties at high temperatures, and withstood the heat and erosion of the gas stream over record periods of time.

Another ceramic, zirconium oxide, showed good endurance under MHD operating conditions. Other materials, including zirconium silicate and beryllium oxide, were found to be less satisfactory because of melting, erosion or thermal cracking.

Among electrode materials, refractory metals such as tungsten, tantalum, and zirconium were evaluated, as were certain of their alloys and compounds. Most of the materials showed a tendency to oxidize or melt before the generator's ceramic wall linings were seriously affected.

Graphite, which proved to have excellent electrical conductivity, plus resistance to high temperatures and thermal shock, has the serious drawback of eroding away rapidly in the white-hot blast of the generator.

Mt. Nebo Grange Stages Program

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey and family provided the program in observance of National Dairy Week at the meeting of the Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night.

It included piano solos by Carol Bailey, talks on dairying by Carl Bailey, testing cattle by George VanFossan, story of ice cream by Kathryn Bailey, talk on cows by Olive Bailey, dairy facts by Priscilla Bailey and vocal solo by Kathryn Bailey.

Letters were read from the state and national units commending Carol Bailey for winning the county Grange safety contest with her essay on "The Golden Rule—My Guide to Highway Safety." She was presented a pin as county winner. Her essay has been sent to the state and national headquarters for consideration.

S. D. Bailey reported of legislation in Columbus.

Talks were given on the praying mantis and on operating rotary mowers.

A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. James Heckathorne, former members who moved to Montana.

Jim's father, J. Herman Saxon, sells vending machines. Jim's firm, which operates and stocks the machines, will be taken over by his father.

The younger Saxon said he had been seriously considering the move for three years. "It got so I couldn't dismiss it anymore," he said.

Kennedy Takes Surprise Cruise On Potomic River

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surprise cruise on the Potomac took President Kennedy out of the White House for the first time since Monday, breaking his routine of work and treatment of his injured back.

Kennedy will take some more time off tonight to welcome his wife back from Europe.

Without advance word, Kennedy slipped out of the White House at sunset Wednesday and motored to the Navy gun factory where he boarded the Patrick J., one of the boats used by the first family.

Kennedy and his companions—his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; Harvard classmate Rep. Robert McDonald, D-Mass., and New York advertising man R. LeMoyne Billings—had dinner aboard. After a leisurely cruise of about 2 hours and 20 minutes they docked in Washington at 10:05 p.m.

He has been using crutches but White House news secretary Pierre Salinger, who disclosed the boat ride, said Kennedy evidently had no trouble boarding the Patrick J.

The President will see his wife for the first time tonight since he left London June 5 at the end of his Paris-Vienna-London conferences. She went on to Greece on a sightseeing trip.

Mrs. Kennedy, who didn't learn the extent of her husband's ailment until she read of it in the papers at Athens, is scheduled to land at 11 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. She will fly down from New York in the Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, immediately after crossing the Atlantic by commercial aircraft.

2 Men Are Killed In Pennsy Pike Crash

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — David A. Whalen, 22, of Strongsville, Ohio, and John M. Vasilauskas, 27, of Braddock, Pa., were killed Wednesday night in a three-car collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike 11 miles east of the Somerset interchange. Three other persons were injured.

Whalen, a student at the University of Miami (Fla.), was enroute home. He was towing a stock car behind his auto. His vehicle went out of control as he tried to avoid a collision, hit one of the wrecked cars, went down a 37-foot embankment and overturned and burst into flames.

35 At Scouts Roundtable

Thirty-five attended the Cherokee District scouters roundtable Wednesday night at Thompson Park.

Colin Brown presided. Members of Troop 31 of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church conducted the opening ceremony.

Gerald Finnie, minister of the Salineville Church of Christ, gave a demonstration on the proper use and display of the flag. Mrs. Doris Locke was in charge of the handicraft session for den mothers and Bill Jones presided at the cub leader session.

Bill Moore and Robert Gray, district executive, displayed various types of traps and snares during the scout leader discussion. A large cake was auctioned to Dick McGeehan. Proceeds were added to the Cherokee mascot, a large statue of a rooster.

Pack 74 won the attendance award of the rooster for the second consecutive month. Brown introduced Bill Griffin, new scoutmaster of Troop 54 of Smiths Ferry.

Prizes in contests were won by Dale Thornton, Al Cronin, Griffin and Moore. Thomas Snow, district chairman, announced the next roundtable will be held at Hammond Park at Wellsville. Troops 19 and 20 will serve as hosts.

Barry Badgely served refreshments. Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, discussed final plans for a work session this weekend at Camp Twin Spruce. The camp opens June 25.

TV Board Trims Time Consumed On Commercials

WASHINGTON (AP)—A television industry board has decreed shorter commercials.

The Television Board of the National Association of Broadcasters Wednesday amended its TV code to change its regulations on commercials.

The most important change will reduce the maximum commercial time during peak viewing hours from six minutes per half-hour to four minutes.

The board also ruled that all nonprogram material—such as public service announcements, plugs for other programs, opening and closing sponsor announcements—will count as part of the four-minute commercial time.

Another change will reduce the number of spot commercials between shows during peak viewing time from three to two.

The code amendments take effect Oct. 29.

The code is a recommended standard for stations belonging to the National Association of Broadcasters. Only the stations that abide by the code are permitted to display the association seal.

Wellsville Kaycees Return Grand Knight

John Kozora has been re-elected grand knight of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507.

Other officers are Anthony DeSarro, deputy grand knight; Joe Guliani, chancelor; John F. Ragan, recording secretary; Jim McPeak, treasurer; Leonard DeFalco, advocate; Andrew Lynn, warden; William Chemur, inside guard, and Andrew Holowaty, outside guard.

Trustees re-elected were Anthony Cataldo, three-year, George Prokop, two-year, and John Barborak, one year. John Cataldo will remain as financial secretary.

A social will be held Saturday night at 9 at the home.

The P. & G. Amusement Co. of Massillon has been awarded a contract to provide the rides for the St. Rocco Festival sponsored by the council in August. The Zambelli Fireworks Co. of New Castle will provide the fireworks. Guliani is general chairman.

Intruders Hit 2 City Homes

Police today are investigating burglaries at two East Liverpool homes — one in the downtown area in which jewelry and small appliances were taken and another in West End in which the intruder apparently left empty-handed.

Mrs. Jo Ann Fellouzis, 318 Rural Ln., told police her home was looted sometime between 3 p. m. Tuesday and 11 a. m. Wednesday by an intruder who entered through an open side door.

The loss included a camera, a toaster, a cigarette lighter and case, two cultured pearl bracelets, three rhinestone sets and assorted costume jewelry, she said. The report was made late yesterday afternoon.

Lonnie Brewer, 710 W. 9th St., told police at 9:45 last night his home was entered sometime between 9:30 p. m. Tuesday and 9:30 p. m. Wednesday, but apparently there was no loss.

The intruder removed a screen, opened a rear window and then crawled through the opening, Brewer said.

Miss Floreen Diamond, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rosco Diamond of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, was one of the runnersup to Miss Rita Yakupkovich, 19-year-old Baden beauty, the winner.

Miss Diamond was graduated this year from Midland High School. The contest is a preliminary for the Miss Universe pageant.

College Year Ended By Hookstown Youth

Charles Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brooks of Hookstown, returned Monday with his parents and brother, David, from Kansas where he completed his freshman year at the University of Wichita. His parents had visited Mr. and Mrs. Byron Charles of Harper.

Miss Lois Swearingen spent Wednesday and Thursday with Miss Peggy Nichols of Beaver.

Herbert Graham is a patient at Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh.

County Beekeepers Hold Twilight Event

LISBON — Over 50 attended the Columbiana County beekeepers' first summer twilight meeting held Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schweitzer of East Palestine R. D. 2. Richard Howenstine of Alliance R. D. 5, president, presided.

Wendell P. Smith of the State Department of Agriculture spoke, along with J. L. Kosman, Cuyahoga County bee inspector.

The meeting July 12 will be a joint event of the Columbiana and Jefferson County groups at the William Taylor farm of Steubenville R. D. 1, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Men's Brotherhood Donates For Scouts

A contribution of $25 for Boy Scout Troop 26 of Chester was authorized by the Men's Brotherhood at a meeting Wednesday night at the Chester First Christian Church. The money will be used for camping equipment.

The group also discussed the annual church picnic to be held July 12 at East Palestine City Park. Harrison Smith led devotions. Shuffleboard was played.

Albert Kell, president, was in charge. A corn roast will be held at the meeting Aug. 9 at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Chester Playground Equipment Approved

James Moss, representative of the East Liverpool Recreation Council, Wednesday night inspected and approved equipment at the Jack Owen Playground at Chester.

The playlot will officially open Monday afternoon at 1 with Miss Elizabeth Erlitz, supervisor.

Mrs. Russell Gorby, president of the Jack Owen Playground Association, said the group may seek funds to purchase a large piece of equipment such as a merry-go-round.

Intruders Hit 2 City Homes

Police today are investigating burglaries at two East Liverpool homes — one in the downtown area in which jewelry and small appliances were taken and another in West End in which the intruder apparently left empty-handed.

Mrs. Jo Ann Fellouzis, 318 Rural Ln., told police her home was looted sometime between 3 p. m. Tuesday and 11 a. m. Wednesday by an intruder who entered through an open side door.

The loss included a camera, a toaster, a cigarette lighter and case, two cultured pearl bracelets, three rhinestone sets and assorted costume jewelry, she said. The report was made late yesterday afternoon.

Lonnie Brewer, 710 W. 9th St., told police at 9:45 last night his home was entered sometime between 9:30 p. m. Tuesday and 9:30 p. m. Wednesday, but apparently there was no loss.

The intruder removed a screen, opened a rear window and then crawled through the opening, Brewer said.

A contribution of $25 for Boy Scout Troop 26 of Chester was authorized by the Men's Brotherhood at a meeting Wednesday night at the Chester First Christian Church. The money will be used for camping equipment.

The group also discussed the annual church picnic to be held July 12 at East Palestine City Park. Harrison Smith led devotions. Shuffleboard was played.

Albert Kell, president, was in charge. A corn roast will be held at the meeting Aug. 9 at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Chester Playground Equipment Approved

James Moss, representative of the East Liverpool Recreation Council, Wednesday night inspected and approved equipment at the Jack Owen Playground at Chester.

The playlot will officially open Monday afternoon at 1 with Miss Elizabeth Erlitz, supervisor.

Mrs. Russell Gorby, president of the Jack Owen Playground Association, said the group may seek funds to purchase a large piece of equipment such as a merry-go-round.

Chamber's Board To Bypass Meetings In July And August

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce agreed Tuesday afternoon to follow its custom of skipping monthly business meetings during July and August because of the vacation season.

No sessions will be held in the next two months except at the call of Alvin T. Babb, president. The next regular meeting will be in September.

The board approved initial plans of the public education committee to hold its annual reception in September for new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems. The receptions have been held for several years at the beginning of the new term.

The teachers are taken on a tour of the area to acquaint themselves with the industry, business, civic and scenic highlights, then entertained at a luncheon program. Edwin Maloney is chairman of the education committee.

The board selected George A. Shaw and Charles Stuart to sit on the Executive Committee of the East Liverpool Merchants Association as representatives of the Chamber. The names were proposed by Don Eckert, immediate past president of ELMA.

The merchants' Executive Committee is comprised of the officers, two members selected by the Chamber board and two named by the ELMA president, subject to approval of the membership.

Eckert reported on recent activities of the merchants' group. C. W. Ashbaugh, co-chairman of the industrial development committee, reported on a meeting of the committee last week.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, reported on the student recognition dinner which the public education committee arranged May 24, honoring graduates of East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Chester and Newell High Schools who were in the top 10 per cent of their classes.

The oath of office was given Maurice Rapport, elected to a vacancy on the board in May.

Charles Taylor, vice president and co-chairman of the business relations committee, reported sufficient interest has been shown to warrant formation of an economic discussion group in the fall. His committee will work out the details.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good job of cementing wood and metal together?

A. With cementing wood and metal together use household cement, first soaking the metal pieces in acetone. Be careful not to touch the surface after soaking, and the household cement will make a good bond.

Q. How can I stiffen the brushes of my carpet sweeper?

A. Take the brushes out of the sweeper and dip them several times into hot water, to which a little common baking soda has been added. Then let the brushes dry in the sun.

Q. How can I improve the flavor of apple sauce?

A. Add a few drops of lemon juice. This is especially effective if the apples have a flat taste.

Coffee-Break Habit Reaches Family Dog

HAYS, Kan. (AP) — America's coffee - break habit has finally reached the family dog.

Sam, a handsome cocker spaniel belonging to Homer Zimmerman, got in on the routine one morning during breakfast. Now it's a regular habit — the Zimmerman's make an extra cup or two for Sam's benefit.

Q. How can I make a good job of cementing wood and metal together?

A. With cementing wood and metal together use household cement, first soaking the metal pieces in acetone. Be careful not to touch the surface after soaking, and the household cement will make a good bond.

Q. How can I stiffen the brushes of my carpet sweeper?

A. Take the brushes out of the sweeper and dip them several times into hot water, to which a little common baking soda has been added. Then let the brushes dry in the sun.

Q. How can I improve the flavor of apple sauce?

A. Add a few drops of lemon juice. This is especially effective if the apples have a flat taste.

Coffee-Break Habit Reaches Family Dog

HAYS, Kan. (AP) — America's coffee - break habit has finally reached the family dog.

Sam, a handsome cocker spaniel belonging to Homer Zimmerman, got in on the routine one morning during breakfast. Now it's a regular habit — the Zimmerman's make an extra cup or two for Sam's benefit.
